Acknowledgements

The first person that I would like to thank in this more or less long list of acknowledgements is my supervisor Cars “the boss” Hommes. Thanks Cars for your trust when you invited me to join CeNDEF as a PhD; for always being able to find some time notwithstanding your busy agenda; for your excellent supervision; for many great dinners in Amsterdam and abroad; for your sense of humor and for being so confident that I would come back after every journey.

I am also grateful to all my colleagues for making CeNDEF such a pleasant working environment. Thanks to Cees, Daan, Florian, Marco, Marius, Maurice, Paolo, Pim and Te.

A special thank goes to Misha for his constant support and many interesting discussions, to Jan for being so cheerful and encouraging, to my officemate Saeed for many interesting insights on Iranian culture, to my other officemate and good friend Tania who helped me with math and made working days so much funnier and to Tiziana for making the goodbye-Italy-welcome-to-Holland transition much smoother.

Thanks to the members of my PhD committee Tiziana Assenza, Peter Boswijk, Bill Branch, Domenico Delli Gatti, Wouter den Haan and Jan Tuinstra for reading the manuscript and giving useful feedbacks.

And now I would like to thank the “I love you all” crowd and a few other people for making my Amsterdam experience so special: thank you Henrique for countless fun nights out, football games, barbecues and T@K; thank you Tininha for our c-c-c-c breaks, for taking me out until morning on random week days and much more; thank you Romulo, great flatmate and an even better dancer, keep on “killing birds”; thank you Zoe, flatmate for a while, for your help with many dutch translations; thank you Ivo, Roberto and Wout, the party animals trio; thank you Laurita “the doctor”, lovely Iskra and margarita-Fleur; thanks to Martin and Priyanka and their Indian wedding; and thanks to Tiago and Eszter and their Portuguese-Slovakian-Dutch wedding; thank you Martuky, I still have your calendar; thank you Paci for your alegria; thank you Tara for recognizing all the South Park quotes; thank you Claudio and Estrela for showing me that building a family is awesome; thank you Ines querida for your photography advices; thank you Lefteris, Sergios and Spiros, the greek mafia; thank you Ana, Anne and Anne, Beatriz, Fatima, Federico, Federico, Igor, Jacopo, Luis, Michael, Mike, Nora, Nutabi, Sergio, Sonia and Virginia; thanks to my Italian friends Augusto, Commi, Fede, Gigione, Giuseppe, Mattia, Pippo and Vito who said that they will come to visit me in Amsterdam and actually did it; thank you Carmen for many long distance conversations and for keeping me close to the roots; and thank you Bubble for your beautiful hearth, for taking me to the sea in spring and for making so many of my days - you have a special place in my hearth.

Ed infine, grazie alla mia famiglia che mi ha sempre fatto sentire casa non poi così lontana, che ha costantemente creduto in me, che c'è sempre stata quando ne ho avuto bisogno, e che non ha bisogno di conoscere l'inglese per capire. Questa tesi è dedicata a voi.
