Social interactions for economic value? A marketing perspective

Vock, M.

Citation for published version (APA):
Overview Figures

Figure 1. Graphical depiction of chapters ................................................................. 10
Figure 2. Trickle effects of partnerships ..................................................................... 19
Figure 3. Overview of relationships and possible relevant theories ...................... 33
Figure 4: Overview of the study’s main constructs and connections ..................... 42
Figure 5: Hypothesized relationships ....................................................................... 52
Figure 6: Two-Way ANOVA for Attitude ................................................................. 58
Figure 7: Two-Way ANOVA for Trust ...................................................................... 59
Figure 8: Two-Way ANOVA for Word of Mouth .................................................. 59
Figure 9: Two-Way ANOVA for Switching Intentions ........................................... 59
Figure 10: Two-Way ANOVA for Buying Intentions .............................................. 60
Figure 11: Hypothesized relationships ..................................................................... 79
Figure 12: Two-way ANOVA for Attitude ............................................................... 84
Figure 13: Two-way ANOVA for Trust .................................................................... 84
Figure 14: Two-way ANOVA for Word of Mouth ................................................ 85
Figure 15: Regular members ..................................................................................... 117
Figure 16: Premium members .................................................................................. 117