Social interactions for economic value? A marketing perspective
Vock, M.

Citation for published version (APA):
Overview Figures

Figure 1. Graphical depiction of chapters ................................................................. 10
Figure 2. Trickle effects of partnerships ..................................................................... 19
Figure 3. Overview of relationships and possible relevant theories ............................ 33
Figure 4: Overview of the study’s main constructs and connections .......................... 42
Figure 5: Hypothesized relationships ..................................................................... 52
Figure 6. Two-Way ANOVA for Attitude ................................................................. 58
Figure 7. Two-Way ANOVA for Trust ..................................................................... 59
Figure 8. Two-Way ANOVA for Word of Mouth ....................................................... 59
Figure 9. Two-Way ANOVA for Switching Intentions ............................................... 59
Figure 10. Two-Way ANOVA for Buying Intentions .................................................. 60
Figure 11: Hypothesized relationships ................................................................... 79
Figure 12. Two-way ANOVA for Attitude ............................................................... 84
Figure 13. Two-way ANOVA for Trust .................................................................. 84
Figure 14. Two-way ANOVA for Word of Mouth ................................................... 85
Figure 15. Regular members .................................................................................. 117
Figure 16. Premium members ................................................................................. 117