Acknowledgements

It is a pleasure to thank those who made this dissertation possible. Especially I want to thank my supervisor Prof. Dr. Bram Kempers and co-supervisor Prof. Dr. Rob van der Laarse, both from the University of Amsterdam's Department of Cultural Sciences, for their help and motivating ideas. Special appreciation goes to my old friend Rik Vos. He has made available his support in a number of ways during the entire research. He read many parts of my dissertation while simultaneously acting as a referee and supplier of inspiration without avoiding risks or being too politically correct. Also I would like to show my gratitude to Paul Koopman from the Institute for Culture and History for his support and to Prof. Dr. Irene Zwiep to make this dissertation possible by matching the funding for an appointment so I could do my last year of research and writing. The SNS Reaal fund that is highly appreciated for especially supporting cultural heritage research in the Netherlands generously donated the initial funding. Much valued is the work of Rene de Haan who did a tremendous job in designing the cover and a number of graphics and my US colleagues Dr. Laurie Rush, Jack Rush and Dr. Jim Zeidler who helped with language problems and provided their perspectives on several issues addressed in this study. Professor Jacques van Nieuwenhove and Dr. Berma Klein Goldewijk were of big help in the beginning of the project. Karl von Habsburg, Dahpne Daponte, Laura Taverne, Winnie Zwetsloot and Frits Nordsiek provided moral support and technical assistance. Brigadier General Hans Bosch ret. supplied military moral support. Lastly, I offer my gratitude to my mother and all who supported me in any respect during the completion of the project.
