Making planning support systems matter: improving the use of planning support systems for integrated land use and transport strategy-making te Brömmelstroet, M.

Publication date
2010

Citation for published version (APA):

General rights
It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other than for strictly personal, individual use, unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Disclaimer/Complaints regulations
If you believe that digital publication of certain material infringes any of your rights or (privacy) interests, please let the Library know, stating your reasons. In case of a legitimate complaint, the Library will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website. Please Ask the Library: https://uba.uva.nl/en/contact, or a letter to: Library of the University of Amsterdam, Secretariat, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, The Netherlands. You will be contacted as soon as possible.
Curriculum Vitae
PERSONAL DESCRIPTION
Marco te Brömmelstroet was born in 1980 in Gendringen, the Netherlands. After graduating his VWO education at the Isala College in Silvolde in 1999, he studied at the Saxion Hogeschool Iuselland from 1999 to 2003, where he received a Bachelor of the Built Environment. From 2003 to 2005, he studied Environmental and Infrastructure Planning at the University of Groningen. He received his Master of Science degree by graduating on the topic ‘historical development of the European transport policy domain’. In 2004, he started his study on Geographical Information Management and Applications (a collaborative study of Utrecht University, Technical University Delft, Wageningen University and ITC Enschede). For this, he received his Master of Science degree in 2009 by graduating on the topic ‘socio-technical development approach for Planning Support Systems’.

In 2005, he started as a Ph.D. candidate at the Amsterdam institute for Metropolitan and International Development Studies of the University of Amsterdam on a research that was part of the Transition to Sustainable Mobility program. The focus of this research was on the role of knowledge in connecting the strategy-making of land use and transport planners. Currently, he is working as a PostDoc on a NOW sponsored research on sustainable urban strategies for the Randstad in the face of climate change. Also, he is running a bicycle shop in Munich, Germany.

ACADEMIC PUBLICATIONS

SELECTION OF OTHER PUBLICATIONS

