Minding their own business? Firms and activists in the making of private labour regulation

Fransen, L.W.

Publication date
2010

Citation for published version (APA):

General rights
It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other than for strictly personal, individual use, unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Disclaimer/Complaints regulations
If you believe that digital publication of certain material infringes any of your rights or (privacy) interests, please let the Library know, stating your reasons. In case of a legitimate complaint, the Library will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website. Please Ask the Library: https://uba.uva.nl/en/contact, or a letter to: Library of the University of Amsterdam, Secretariat, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, The Netherlands. You will be contacted as soon as possible.
Contents

Acknowledgements ............................................................................................................................ vii
List of frequently used abbreviations ............................................................................................... xi
Introduction. Private labour regulation: why, and what is it good for? ............................................... 1
Chapter Two. Understanding developments in private labour regulation. A framework for research .................................................................................................................................................. 15
Chapter Three. Labour standards, implementation, and degrees of control. A power based analysis of private regulatory approaches ........................................................................................................ 45
Chapter Four. How to dress up a code. The politics of developing approaches to private labour regulation ........................................................................................................................................... 75
Chapter Five. Choosing a code. Understanding business support for private labour regulation .... 109
Chapter Six. Competing codes. Understanding the dynamics of private regulatory competition ... 151
Chapter Seven. Conclusions and prospects ...................................................................................... 183
References ........................................................................................................................................ 205
Appendix I: The eight private regulatory organizations ................................................................. 215
Appendix II: Methodology ............................................................................................................... 219
English summary .............................................................................................................................. 229
Nederlandse samenvatting ............................................................................................................... 233
About the author ............................................................................................................................... 237