Sacerdotes piae: priestesses and other female cult officials in the western part of the Roman Empire from the first century B.C. until the third century A.D.
Gaspar, V.M.

Citation for published version (APA):
Gaspar, V. M. (2012). Sacerdotes piae: priestesses and other female cult officials in the western part of the Roman Empire from the first century B.C. until the third century A.D.
Table of Contents

Acknowledgements  iii
Introduction  1

Chapter 1: Methodological and historical backgrounds  8
Introduction  8
1: Status Quaestionis  8
1.1: Works on religious roles of women in the western provinces  9
1.2: Views on the religious roles of women in Roman antiquity  10
2: The role of women in Roman society  12
3: Romanization and its influences on towns and people  15
3.1: The diffusion of Roman(ised) habits and difficulties identifying them  16
3.2: The impact of Romanization  17
4: Civic religion in the provinces  19
4.1: Civic religion and the role of the elite  19
4.2: Différences between towns and regions  20
5: Public and private in the Roman Empire  21
5.1: The ancient sources on public and private  24
5.2: The ancient sources on Roman and foreign  26
5.3: Modern views  28
5.4: Politics, community and ‘publicness’ and the changing role of women  30
5.5: Location and its relation to public religion  31
5.6: Organising public religion in Rome, Italy and in the provinces: the role of the local council  34
5.7: Financing public religion and the appointment of public priests  35
5.8: Summary  36

6: Epigraphy and the study of Roman priestesses  38
6.1: Reasons for erecting inscriptions and their relation to Romanization  39
6.2: Problems and limitations of the use of inscriptions as historical source  40
6.3: Types of Inscriptions  43

Conclusions of this chapter  44

Chapter 2: Female priesthood: an overview  46
Introduction  46
1: Religious titles  46
1.1: Sacerdos and its variants 47
1.2: Antistes and antistitia 48
1.3: (Mater) Sacrorum 49
2: Distribution and Romanization 50
   2.1: The geographical and chronological spread 52
   2.2: Sacerdotes stricto sensu 56
   2.3: Priestesses of cities and perpetual priestesses 60
3: Deities served by female officials 62
   3.1: Goddesses 63
   3.2: Gods 85
Conclusions of this chapter 91

Chapter 3: Religious officials in the cult of Ceres 93
Introduction 93
1: The Ceres cult in Rome 93
   1.1: Ceres in early Rome: the Aventine triad and the Greek cult 94
   1.2: Priestly officials of the Roman Ceres 95
2: The Ceres cults in Italy 100
   2.1: The Italian Ceres cults 100
   2.2: The cults of Demeter in Italy 102
   2.3: Priestly titles and local peculiarities 105
   2.4: Priesthoods of Ceres and their links to Libera, Magna Mater and Venus 109
   2.5: The rank and social standing of the Italian priestesses of Ceres 110
3: The Ceres cults in Africa 111
   3.1: The epigraphic evidence 112
   3.2: Peculiarities of the African Ceres cults 114
   3.3: The names of the African priestesses 121
   3.4: The social rank of the priestesses 123
   3.5: Cult and priestly standing in Carthage 124
   3.6: The standing of non-Carthaginian priests of Ceres or the Cereres 126
   3.7: Some conclusions about the African cults of Ceres 127
      Excursus: African priestesses of Tellus 128
Conclusions 129

Chapter 4: The religious side of being a priestess 131
Introduction 131
1: Religious tasks 132
   1.1: Sacrificing 132
   1.2: Processions, festivals and banquets 136
1.3: Dedicating 138
1.4: Other tasks 140
1.5: Tasks of ancillary officials 141

2: Priestesses as embodiment of ritual 153
  2.1: Age and years of service 153
  2.2: Chastity and prostitution 159
  2.3: Clothing and outward appearance 164

Conclusion 167

Chapter 5: Being a woman, holding a priesthood: the social life of the priestesses 169

Introduction 169

1: Family life and public image 170
  1.1: Marital status and the role of family members 170
  1.2: The public image of the priestess: death and remembrance 171

2: Becoming a priestess 173
  2.1: Election and appointment 173
  2.2: The familial background of the priestess and hereditary priesthods 177
  2.3: Summae honorariae and gifts 180

3: Priesthoods and social rank 184
  3.1: The rank of the priestesses in the provinces 184
  3.2: Multiple and joint priesthods, social rank and standing 187
  3.3: Holding a priesthood as a way to consolidate or enhance one’s standing 188

4: Priesthoods, euergetism and public honour 190
  4.1: Benefactions and patronage 190
  4.2: Public honours 198
  4.3: The cause and result of acting in public: auctoritas 204

Conclusion 205

Epilogue 207

Conclusion 219

Summary 222

Nederlandse samenvatting 226

List of abbreviations 231

Appendix 234

Catalogue 236

Bibliography 277

Biography 306