This thesis and subsequent PhD graduation represent the achievement of one big step in my dream of life: to become an orthopaedic surgeon and researcher. My special gratitude to my mentors, collaborators, family and friends, whose support and unconditional faith transformed this dream to reality:

David, there are not enough words to thank you for the opportunity to work together. Your mentoring and teaching opened a door full of opportunities, knowledge and an unlimited thirst for research questions and answers. Thank you for granting me full involvement in so many projects--a lot more than those needed for my thesis. My experience at MGH showed me all the faces of research, from writing a protocol to the endless revisions during the submission process. Especially, David, I want to thank you for your friendship -- the beers, the trips, the conferences, the presentations and our often passionate but always respectful debates of science and religion.

Dr J, it was an honor to be one of your visiting observers and subsequently one of the research fellows at MGH’s Hand and Upper Extremity Service. The opportunity to spend time under your mentoring is invaluable. Thank you for all the morning conferences, teaching points in the operating room and the correction and instruction in writing papers and book chapters. Opportunities were plentiful; thank you for your generosity. More importantly, thank you for the example of humility and a sincere love of teaching. Graciously you and your wife opened your home for us to enjoy fantastic soccer games, pizza, beer and of course discussions of the latest controversies in orthopaedic surgery.

Job, my friend, this day would not be a reality without all your friendship, support and translations. From day one you believed and constructed a fantastic international research collaboration. The “research factory” is what it is because of your enthusiasm and assistance to those who are willing to do research. You did everything and more, from writing letters to the Dutch Embassy (so I could get my visa), to sharing your apartment in Amsterdam (at no cost), and to lending me your bike!! I really appreciate your friendship—the soccer games, conversations, and possibly best of all, your cooking! You introduced me to the Dutch culture; I had a great time in the city and at the AMC. I hope that despite the distance we will continue to maintain our friendship. It will be an honor to be coauthors in more papers, to go to conferences together, and to enjoy a good beer after a day of podium presentations and talks.
Very special thanks to you and your family.

Professor van Dijk, your support from day one was 110%. Since my interview with you, your guidance and support have been always there to shape my thesis investigation and to convert the material of my research fellowship into the thesis that is presented today. To work in your department was an honor. It enriched my research experience, adding the strength of the European perspective. Despite distance, the quality of your mentoring and guidance was excellent. Thank you for carrying my drafts in your briefcase and dedicating hours of corrections while taking flights for conferences to different cities.

Dr. Kloen, thank you for your help and guidance, especially in our investigation assessing the outcome of corrective osteotomies. Despite our contact being mostly limited to email rather than face-to-face, the quality of your mentoring, and your input were phenomenal.

Dr. Blankevoort, thank you for your interest in my work. You took the time to arrange interviews and meetings in order for me to organize my thesis proposal and construct a solid plan for research. Your assistance while at the AMC was priceless.

To my other mentors, in the States: Dr. Lee, Dr. Mudgal, Dr. Vrahos, Dr. Raskin, and Dr. Herndon, in the Netherlands: Dr. Strackee, and in Colombia: Dr. Garcia, Dr. Vargas, and Dr. Leal. All of your support and guidance took me to the place where I am today.

To all my Dutch friends: Kim, Anneluuk, Sebi, Durk, Marijn, Marjolijn, Geert and many others not related to the medical field. Thank you for making feel at home while I was in the Netherlands. Your patience to teach Dutch to a Colombian is remarkable. Thanks to you I could order breakfast (Mag ik een hete chocolade en een koekje) and when single, was able to ask for a dance by complimenting a very tall and cute Dutch girl (U hebt mooie ogen).

To all the Department of Hand Surgery at MGH: Jamal, Melissa, Christine, Valerie, Mary, Yamila, Eileen and Karen, and at the AMC: Marga and Rosalie. Your help and assistance is deeply appreciated. Thanks for all the calls, faxes and the paper work.
Gracias especiales para mi papa, Santiago, y mi mama, Marta, gracias por todo su apoyo y por creer en mi. Por todo su amor y ayuda incondicional en la distancia. Gracias por estar siempre a mi lado dandome fuerzas para luchar por mis sueños. Sin ustedes esto no habria sido posible. Lo prometo, este es el ultimo grado con la residencia. No mas estudios!. Creo que ya acabe todo lo que tenia que estudiar.

Gracias para mi tía Connie que mas que una tía ha sido una mama; para mi hermana Adriana, la mayor cómplice de muchas aventuras y sueños; para mi sobrina Juliana y mi cuñado –hermano- Germán. Para mis hermanitas consentidas Cata y María José y todo el resto de mi familia. Sin su amor y apoyo no habria alcanzado mis metas y sueños.

To my parents-in-law, Susan and Allen, who more than in-laws but are parents to me, and to my brother-in-law Allen, mi hermano. Thanks for believing in the suitcase packed with dreams that I had to offer. Day by day each dream is becoming a reality and that would be impossible without your help. Thank you from the bottom of my heart.

To my patient wife and editor, Kate. There are no words to thank you. Your love and patience are unlimited. Thank you for your unconditional support and faith and for riding this roller coaster with me for the last 2 years. My time with you has been the best of all my life.

To my son, Santi, thank you for all your smiles, your eyes and your love. You and your mother are my inspiration.

Lastly and more importantly I want to thank God and the Virgin Mary, for all the good things that I have received in life –my miracle, my dream- that I believe I am not worthy for. For their eternal and forgiving love to support me and to console me in the moments of difficulty and to share those of happiness and hope. Thank you Lord Jesus Christ and Virgin Mary.
