Throughout the whole life 4 and half years PhD period was not a long journey. However, to me it was an invaluable and remarkable trip and experience, among which I had the opportunity to explore the Fusarium world and to work together with helpful, friendly and intelligent colleagues to complete my PhD both in science and life. Without the help and support from so many people I could have never imagined that the achievement of PhD was successful. Hence, I would like to express my deep gratitude to all of them who helped me to find my way out to fulfill the 4.5 years PhD journey both in scientific work and my personal life.

First of all I would like to give my great thanks to my daily supervisor (co-promotor) Dr. Frank Takken and promotor Prof. Ben Cornelissen. Thanks both of you for providing me the opportunity to join your group and start this PhD research in 2008. Dear Frank, I still remembered the moment when I received your e-mail to offer me this PhD position and so unforgettable moment. I am always thinking that I was so lucky to have you as my supervisor because of your excellent supervision and guidance both in science and life. You brought me into the scientific field and taught me so many things that definitely improved my research competences and will benefit my future scientific career as well. Your insightful suggestions helped me shape my research direction frequently. When I run into difficulties or confusing questions, you were always available and enthusiastic to discuss and explain them to me. Your creative and supportive ideas directed or attracted me to discover and resolve the remaining and challenging questions, which made me more confident to work through my project. You were very positive on my new ideas and gave me enough spaces to develop these ideas. Whenever I sent you e-mails, you always replied to me in time. I am also grateful to you for helping me with lots of administrative and immigration (IND) paper works. Of course, also thank you for spending countless hours with me discussing research, for correcting and commenting on my chapters and papers. I really appreciated and enjoyed the time working with you. Dear Ben, especially thank you for giving me fruitful suggestions and support not only on my project but also on my personal life. Your experience and insight in science played a vital role in our work discussion and directing me to achieve my PhD degree. I also thank you for spending so much time proofreading my chapters. Your precise corrections benefit me throughout my scientific career. Also thank you for helping me to deal with all kinds of administrative paper works.

Second, my thanks go to Petra Houterman and Dr. Martijn Rep. Dear Petra, thank for your continuous support on my lab work especially on the Fusarium experiments and helping me to find out the way. I am also grateful to your clear management on the lab to make the lab running orderly, which resulted in my experiments going smoothly. I could not imagine that the lab would run without your dedicated efforts. I really appreciated all of your generous help and contributions to our papers, and working together with you. Dear Martijn, thank you for many valuable suggestions and comments on my work at the work discussion or meeting. I admired your unique and innovative ideas toward the scientific research. I also thank you for spending much time proofreading the discussion part of my dissertation. I am also grateful to your contributions and dedications to our papers. You are always so kind and gentle, which gave me unforgettable impression. I still remembered the moment that we played ping pang (table tennis) and pool at Luntern meeting, and you drove me from Science Park to Amstel station. I really appreciated all of your help and working together with you.

To continue, Dear Harrold, your rich knowledge and original ideas on plant pathology field impressed me a lot, thank you for your helpful suggestions on my project. I believe your group will obtain good achievements. I am also grateful to Hanna, thank you for your help in the Six5/Avr2 chapter, providing me lots of help in the daily lab work and the daycare information for my daughter. Patrick, thank you for the help in my lab work, organizing the pool night, help in translating Dutch documents, and showing me the Arabidopsis transformation and sharing your cycling experience with me. Good luck with your future work.

Next, I am grateful to my (old) office PhD members. Dear Ewa, thank you for introducing the lab to me especially the protein equipments, providing me good experimental protocols and discussing with me about my experiments, and all the best wishes to you in your new work environments. I want to thank Fleur for offering me lots of help in the daily lab work and in my personal life, such as translating Dutch documents, helping me obtain my Canadian visa for MPMI and settle down in IJburg, and contributing to one of my chapter. I really enjoyed the discussion with you about our project-effector proteins. When my computer in the disaster, you asked Oskar to help me, special thank to Oskar as well. I am also grateful to Mara for your generous help in the lab, organizing the game night in your house, being my paranymph, translating summary into Dutch and for my defense preparation. Fleur and Mara both of you are so kind and friendly. I really appreciated and acknowledged our friendships. I believe that all of your effector work will pay off as we are “effector” persons. The new office member: Magdalena, thank for sharing your yeast protocol with me, nice conversations and good luck with your PhD journey.

Then I would like to thank all other (old) colleagues in the Fyto lab who have helped me to make my PhD time successful and enjoyable. Thank old lab members: Marianne and Linda for giving me introduction about the lab and your help. Dear Lotje, Wilfried and Gerben, thank all of you for lots of help especially at the beginning of my PhD. Biju, thank for your help in some experiments, and don't forget your nick name and good luck with your PEG effectors work. Dear Ido, Sarah, Shermineh, Georgios and Valentin, wish you all the best with your project and enjoy the Fusarium and SUMO research. I also would like to acknowledge the students whom I supervised. Lisa and Nick, thank both of you for your dedicated work to my project and good luck with your future work.

Of course, I also would like to thank all members in the plant physiology group. Michel, Christa, Rob, Teun and Laura, thank all of you for useful ideas on my project during my plant science talks. Christa, Magdalena J. (enthusiastic girl with incredible energy), Fionn (real man), Carlos G. and Steven thank you for your greetings and nice presents to Yiyi, and having dinner together. Ringo, thank you for all kinds of help such as helping me searching experimental chemicals and playing pool together. Petra B. (thank for your kind help and conservation), Alex, Eleni (thank for explaining the PhD graduation procedure in advance), Wendy, Silke, Alessandra, Arjen, Carlos V., Michel V., and Maaïke, Chris, and Miriam, best wishes to all of you.

My PhD work also received help from people outside my department. I thank Anna Pietraszewska and Ronald Breedijk from Microscopy center of UvA for offering me help with confocal microscopy, and Anna also for sharing N.benthamiana plants with me and to be my friend from our EU-NOD perception project. I am also grateful to Sief Boeren from Lab of Biochemistry of Wageningen University for providing me detailed explanation and analyses on the quantitative proteomic data and Henk Dekker from UvA for mass spectrometry analyses as well.

I have been in Holland (Wageningen and Amsterdam) for almost 8 years combing my MSc study, among which I made lots of Chinese friends. Here, I would like to thank all of my friends for their friendships and help both in science and personal life. Friends in Wageningen: special thank to Peng Ke, Cheng Xu, Wang Fengfeng, Zhou Chunhui, Hua Chenlei, Zhang Lisha, Song Chunxu, Qin Wei and Zhu Feng. I really enjoyed the friendships with all of you and appreciated your help. Peng Ke, thank you for playing badminton together, scientific discussions and ‘delicious’ dishes. I believe that you will be a dedicated scientist in the future. Cheng Xu, almost seven years’ friendship is stronger than everything and thank you for your help, playing badminton and delicious dishes. Fengfeng, I really appreciated 7 years’ friendship with you and the unforgettable moment that we spent together. Chenlei and Lisha, thank you both for the great friendships and Chenlei agreeing to be my paranymph and defense preparation. Chunhui, thank you for providing me kinds of help and temporary accommodation in Wageningen. Chunxu and Qin Wei, thank you both for the support on the badminton issues and enjoyable dinners, your friendship and Qin wei as a driver for moving and Chunxu as a photographer in all kinds of badminton matches and gatherings. Zhu Feng, your sense of humor impressed me a lot and thank you for your help and great friendship. I also would like to thank my other (old) friends who are till in or have left Wageningen: Nie Haisheng, Kevin Lu, Yang Yiting, Liu Qing, Yang Ting, Zhang Zhao, Dong Lemeng, Li Hui, Song Yanru, Wang Yan, Zhang Yanxia, Liu Wei, Li Na, Li Yang, Li Yixian and Ye Zhenwei for your friendships and help. Friends in Amsterdam: Zhou Ming, Xiong Hui and Tang Zhou and many others, thank you for the discussion and conversations at lunch time and best wishes to all of you. Dong Lin, special thanks to you for generous help, unforgettable conversations and dinners, and to be the adopted mother of Yiyi. I also want to thank badminton team members in Wageningen and Amsterdam: Chen Tiexi, Zhang Lu, Jin Xin, He Enqi, Li Lintao, Zhang Kai and other members.

Finally, my deepest gratitude goes to my family members for their endless love, countless support and encouragement. To my parents, I really appreciated your deep love, fully understanding, strong support and taking care of Yiyi. To my sister and brother-in-law, I am really grateful to both of you for taking care of our parents and providing me numerous supports when I needed. To my parents-in-law, I appreciated both of you for taking care of Yiyi at the last year of my PhD and all kinds of help and support. To Yiyi: my lovely and cute daughter, your birth brought me abundant happiness. To the most important person throughout my life, dear wife, Xu Fang, you plays vital and distinct roles in my life: as wife you attribute endless love to me, sacrifice your career to our family and dedicate countless efforts to our daughter Yiyi who is the gift of our love. I really appreciated your contributions to me and our family, generously understanding and everlasting support when I was in trouble. I believe that Yiyi will witness our love is lasting forever. As a scientific partner, I am really grateful that you showed great patience to listen to my scientific ideas, made me confidence on research, spending much time helping my experiments and correcting my chapters. As a sport partner, you brought me to the tennis field and accompanied me to attend so many badminton matches. These enjoyable moments left me unforgettable memories and wish we can reproduce them when Yiyi is growing up. All in all, simply saying thank you would not be sufficient to express my gratitude to my family. Then, finishing my acknowledgement with a Chinese saying: all is beyond words.
