First and foremost, I would like to express my sincerest gratitude to my supervisors, Prof. dr. Dick F. Swaab and Prof. dr. Ai-min Bao, who kindly provided me with the opportunity to do this research and who made my Ph.D. thesis possible.

Dear Dick, words cannot express the gratitude that I feel for your tireless help and encouragement. Despite your extremely busy life, your door was always wide open to me, no matter what. Whenever I had new slides to look at, you would enthusiastically join me in the microscope room to view them with me. I always looked forward to having new data so that I would be able to spend that personal time with you. Your excellent supervision, sound advice and your sense of humor have inspired me no end.

Dear Prof. Ai-min Bao, I have great respect for your commitment to scientific research. As a successful Chinese researcher, you are definitely a role model for all of us. You helped establish the collaboration between Chinese universities and Dick Swaab. Moreover, your efforts to establish a Chinese brain bank – most definitely an asset for the future – are greatly appreciated.

A very warm thank you must go to the Netherlands Brain Bank, with its director Dr. Inge Huitinga. The Netherlands Brain Bank is a group of enthusiastic and experienced people, such as technical director Michiel Kooreman and management assistant Marleen Rademaker, and I am proud to be a part of this team.

Mr. Bart Fisser, you are my non-academic supervisor. You showed me how to survive in Amsterdam. As a foreigner to this country, I count myself very lucky to get your help. And not only that: you really liven up life in the lab. Your attitude and assistance have helped me cope with my new environment. You most certainly did not deserve me almost burning down your office.

Unga, Rawien, Arja, Jasper, I am lucky to have had all your help. Without it, I will not ever believe that I could have survived some of my experiments. You have been so kind and always ready to help me out. Joop, counting neurons in front of a microscope is boring work. You made this boring work fun. Thanks for all the jokes and support.

Ronald and Michel, it is great to get all your support.

Dear Tini and Wilma, thank you for all the professional secretarial help and for helping me polish my English. I also really enjoyed discussing football with you.

Jenneke, thank you so much for your professional library help.

Heidi and Ernita, thank you for taking care of all my Chinese problems.

Renus, Martin, Ruud and Dirk, I am grateful for all your help.

Kasper and Asia, it was really fun to learn how to make stapppot and cakes from you. I enjoyed working with you and sharing all the problems of lab and life.

Sabina, Koen and Mathew, the discussions with you really help me.

Ruben, Stefan, Jeroen, Giovanni, Vasil, thank you for the company. I have valued our time playing and talking football with you.

Leo and Maria thank you for being the best neighbors in the world.

Furthermore, I want to thank all my Chinese friends for giving me their time. Li Jiannan, we really enjoy sharing a flat with you. You are a super flatmate. Yu Yong, thank you for your and your wife’s hospitality. Wu Gang, it is always a pleasure to exchange ideas with you. Liu Ji, you are a nice guy with a thoughtful mind. Yin Si, Liu Lei, Li Cao, Li Bei, Tang Nan, we had very good times. I would also like to thank Gao Shang
