About the Author

Geert A. Buijze, MD is an Orthopaedic Surgery Resident

After a venturous youth, living in France and Italy, he returned to the Netherlands with an International Baccalaureate to study Medicine at Leiden University. As an active all-round medical student he joined Leiden's greatest fraternity L.H.D. Delta, led the bone tissue explantation team at BSLIFE Foundation and was an active member of a variety of academic and societal committees and boards. Orthopaedic Research Fellowships in Cape Town, Amsterdam and Boston made him enthusiastic about a PhD Research Fellowship on Scaphoid Fractures. After obtaining his MD degree, he received the Toptalent Grant from the Netherlands Organisation for Scientific Research (NWO) to perform research at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Harvard Medical School in Boston and at the Academic Medical Center, University of Amsterdam. For his work, he received multiple honors and awards. He has been accepted to the University of Amsterdam Orthopaedic Residency Program and is currently working as General Surgery Resident at the Red Cross Hospital in Beverwijk (Head: Dr. H.A. Cense). In 2013, he will start as Orthopaedic Surgery Resident at the Academic Medical Center in Amsterdam (Head: Prof. dr. C.N. van Dijk). He remains ever passionate about combining innovative research and clinical practice.
