Business in the performing arts: Dual executive leadership and organizational performance
Bhansing, P.V.

Citation for published version (APA):
Bhansing, P. V. (2013). Business in the performing arts: Dual executive leadership and organizational performance

General rights
It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other than for strictly personal, individual use, unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Disclaimer/Complaints regulations
If you believe that digital publication of certain material infringes any of your rights or (privacy) interests, please let the Library know, stating your reasons. In case of a legitimate complaint, the Library will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website. Please Ask the Library: http://uba.uva.nl/en/contact, or a letter to: Library of the University of Amsterdam, Secretariat, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, The Netherlands. You will be contacted as soon as possible.
1 INTRODUCTION

Main theoretical themes
Introduction of the chapters

2 PERFORMANCE EFFECTS OF COGNITIVE HETEROGENEITY IN DUAL LEADERSHIP STRUCTURES IN THE ARTS: THE ROLE OF SELECTION SYSTEM ORIENTATIONS

INTRODUCTION
THEORY
Pluralistic organizations and the dual leadership structure
Selection system orientations
Dual leaders and selection system orientations in the arts
Selection system orientation heterogeneity
DATA AND METHOD
The industry setting: High arts in the Netherlands
Sampling
Dependent and independent variables
Screening the data
RESULTS
DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS
Implications
Limitations
Further research

3 THE PRODUCER-DIRECTOR DYAD: MANAGING THE FAULTLINE BETWEEN ART AND COMMERCE

INTRODUCTION
THEORY
Organizations, project based organizations and latent organizations
Organizational structure and faultlines
Faultlines in film production and the core dyad
CASE
ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES
Roles and responsibilities of directors and producers
Roles and responsibility for artistic success
Roles and responsibility for commercial success
THE PRODUCER-DIRECTOR DYAD AND PROJECT TEAM
SELECTION ........................................................................................................ 49
Producers and directors in the team selection process .......................... 49
Dominance of directors versus producers in the team selection process ........................................................................................................ 50
Conflicts between producers and directors in the selection process .......... 52
The influence of loyalty and past collaborations on the selection process ........................................................................................................ 53
EFFECTS OF THE STABILITY OF THE PRODUCER-DIRECTOR DYAD ............................................................................................................. 54
Long term relations and producer-director dyads ................................ 54
Benefits of stable producer-director dyad during selection ............... 57
Benefits of stable producer-director dyad during production ............ 58
Liabilities of a stable producer director dyad .................................... 60
CONCLUSIONS ............................................................................................... 62

4 PRODUCT INNOVATIVENESS, ORGANIZATIONAL LEGITIMACY AND REPUTATION IN THE HIGH ARTS: WHAT SIGNALS DRIVE MARKET ACCESS DECISIONS? .................. 65
INTRODUCTION .......................................................................................... 66
THEORY ......................................................................................................... 68
Scheduling decisions by venue programmers .................................... 68
Product innovativeness ........................................................................ 69
Critics in the cultural industries ........................................................ 71
Critical discourse and legitimacy .................................................... 73
Critical discourse and reputation .................................................... 74
HYPOTHESES ............................................................................................. 75
DATA AND METHOD ................................................................................ 79
Research setting: High arts in the Netherlands ................................ 79
Sampling .................................................................................................. 79
Dependent and independent variables .......................................... 79
RESULTS ...................................................................................................... 82
Robustness Checks ............................................................................. 85
DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSION ............................................................ 87
Limitations and further research .................................................... 88