ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The past few years have been a stimulating and exiting time. I have had the fortune to work on an evolving topic that I find very interesting. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the following people for their guidance, contributions, and support during the development of my PhD thesis.

My gratitude goes first to Dr. Jan te Nijenhuis who supervised my research internship and master thesis during my college education. You opened my eyes to the world of research and were a huge inspiration to me. I gained a lot of knowledge from you, but more importantly by collaborating with you I grew very fond of research. By the time I graduated I knew the path I wanted to take….becoming a PhD candidate.

Karien, my promotor, thank you so much for having faith in me and for your support. During our meetings you often had clever ideas and critical questions, which improved the quality of my research. I greatly admire your leadership. You are extraordinary good at motivating people en you always show an authentic interest in all your employees. Your family-friendly policies made it possible for me to combine the work of this thesis with motherhood (by working part-time). When I needed it you always made time for me in your extreme busy schedule.

Anton, you were my daily supervisor. I could not have asked for a better supervisor. You suggested that I should take the research master in Health Sciences at the Nihes. That was a very good advice as it gave me ‘more legs to stand on’. Now I am an Epidemiologist with knowledge ranging far beyond my PhD project. You were the most significant person in influencing the success of my PhD. Thank you for your detailed and critical comments on my work and for helpful suggestions. I appreciate that you always made time for me. You had high expectations of me which motivated me to work very hard.

Mariël, I am very glad you are my co-promotor. Although you are mostly very busy, you always made time to answer my questions, brainstorm about work, or small talk. I am very grateful for your extensive comments, which were critical, sharp, and clever. Being a hard working women and mother, you have been a true inspiration for me.

Hans, thank you for being my promotor, for your uplifting compliments, and the fast review of my articles.
I would like to express my gratitude to the doctoral committee members – Prof. dr. P. Hooimeijer, Prof. dr. S. Musterd, Prof. dr. P.M.M. Bossuyt, Prof. dr. ir. A.J. Schuit, and Dr. F.J. van Lenthe – for taking the time to review and assess the final version of my thesis.

My gratitude also goes to my paranymphs, Adriëtte en Daniëlle. I very much appreciate our friendship and the time we have spent outside the office. Daniëlle I enjoyed working together with you on some papers! Thank you for showing me how to use and perform statistical analyses with STATA.

Special thanks to Henriëtte and Nita for all administrative support. You were always very helpful! At the end of my project I spent a lot of time working at the secretary on a “special” computer. Although it was quite a ‘noisy’ working environment I very much enjoyed working there. Thank you both for the pleasant conversations. Nita, I have got to know you quite well. You are such a kind and caring person.

Thank you Noor for your good advice regarding the printing of my thesis.

I would like to thank my roommates Margot, Asgar, Marieke, and Adriëtte for pleasant and interesting conversations. Margot you have been my colleague from the very beginning. Thank you for many good laughs. Adriëtte I am so glad that you became my colleague and roommate. You are a very nice, warm, and social person. Thank you for always being cheerful, helpful, and interested in both my work and personal life.

I thank all my colleagues from the department of Public Health of the AMC for having created such a pleasant working environment.

I am thankful to the members of the social epidemiology line for the input you gave when we discussed parts of this work.

I am very grateful to the statistician Wim Busschers for his guidance and help on the analyses of some of my papers. I have learned so much from you. I greatly appreciate the time you have taken to teach me the software R and some analyses with SAS. You brought my analyses to a more sophisticated and higher level! Thank you for answering my questions even without an appointment.

I am thankful to the Netherlands Organisation for Health Research and Development (ZonMw) for the funding of my PhD project.

Many thanks to Christel Jansen for the nice lay-out.

I would like to thank my friends, especially Jeanette 1 and Jeanette 2, Peter and Daniëlle, Peter and Angelique, Hans and Anita, Marco and Stephanie, Eline, and Caroline, for their support and for understanding that I during these busy years have not been able to spend much time with them.

To my dearest parents, Berit and Geir Grimen, thank you for your tremendous support and encouragement over the years. Thank you both for believing in me and encouraging me to follow my dreams. This included backing up my decision to move far away for a year on boarding school when I was only 16 years old, to work in Crete for a couple of months as a young girl, and to move abroad for love and study. Therefore I have become very independent and developed the attitude that ‘I can do everything I put my mind to’. This attitude is really valuable to take with me in life and have helped me much while working on my thesis.

Mom, words cannot express the gratitude I feel. I am forever grateful for everything you have done for me during these extreme busy years when I have been working on this PhD project, obtained a second master degree, and become a mother of 3 lovely children. I was told that having 3 children during a PhD project was a new record at the AMC. I could not have achieved all this without your help! When Madeleine was born in December 2009 you were still working but spent all your holidays traveling to the Netherlands to spend time with me and help me with my daughter. After Constance was born in November 2011, you came living with us for 8 months to help with the children and take care of Constance while I was working. Also, during the last phase of my project, after Alexander was born in March 2014, you offered help and support with the children for several weeks. Thank you for always being there for me and my family when we need you and for being my confidant and dearest friend.

Gisle, my big brother, thank you for everything you have done for me. It was really nice for me to talk to you about my project. Because we have followed the same path (being a former PhD candidate) you provided support and as no other you understand the trials and difficulties of research, which were very comforting.
I am extremely grateful to my parents-in-law, Hans and Joke Jongeneel, for their immense help and support. When I came to the Netherlands they opened up their home for me and took care of me as their own daughter. Thanks to you I feel at home in my new country. Joke, very regularly you have taken care of the children so that I could do some additional work with my thesis. I am so thankful for this!

Ard, my beloved husband, there are absolutely no words to describe the amount of support you have given me during these years, and I cannot thank you enough! I have the greatest respect for you. You have such a busy job having your own company together with your brother, but when you are home you take good care of the children and help me with everything. You are fantastic! And of course Madeleine, Constance, and Alexander, you have enriched my life and I am extremely proud of you all. I look forward to the years that come...seeing you grow up.
