Wardrobes of Turkish-Dutch women: The multiple meanings and aesthetics of Muslim dress

Ünal, R.A.

Citation for published version (APA):

General rights
It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other than for strictly personal, individual use, unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Disclaimer/Complaints regulations
If you believe that digital publication of certain material infringes any of your rights or (privacy) interests, please let the Library know, stating your reasons. In case of a legitimate complaint, the Library will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website. Please Ask the Library: https://uba.uva.nl/en/contact, or a letter to: Library of the University of Amsterdam, Secretariat, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, The Netherlands. You will be contacted as soon as possible.
Table of Contents

ABSTRACT .............................................................................................................................. v

NEDERLANDSE SAMENVATTING ..................................................................................... viii

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS ........................................................................................................ xi

CHAPTER ONE: INTRODUCTION ......................................................................................... 1

1. My Location in the Field ................................................................................................. 1

2. Sartorial Minorities in the Netherlands and Turkey ....................................................... 3

3. Beyond Veiling and Unveiling: From the “New Veiling” to Complete Wardrobes .......... 8

   The First Rupture: The “New Veiling” and Political Islam ............................................. 9

   The Second Rupture: The Turn to Consumption and Fashionable Styles ..................... 12

4. Tesettür Wardrobes in the Netherlands ......................................................................... 15

5. Doing Fieldwork: Wardrobes and Interviews ................................................................. 18

6. Overview of the Chapters ............................................................................................... 22

CHAPTER TWO: THE ÇARŞAF ............................................................................................ 25

1. The Çarşaf in Ottoman and Republican Times ............................................................. 26

   Break with the Empire: the Shift from Imperial Ferace to Çarşaf ................................. 26

   Çarşaf as a National Fashion .......................................................................................... 28

   Tango Çarşaf in the Years of Occupation .................................................................... 29

   Campaigns against the Çarşaf ...................................................................................... 32

2. Torbaç Çarşaf ............................................................................................................... 35

   The İsmailağa Community ............................................................................................. 35
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CHAPTER THREE: OVERCOATS</th>
<th>67</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Tracing the Genealogy of the Turkish Pardösü</td>
<td>67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Guest Worker’s Overcoat: Becoming Modern</td>
<td>68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Overcoat Turns “Islamic” and “Fashionable”</td>
<td>74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Denim (Kot) Pardösü</td>
<td>80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Generational Shift in Producing Overcoats</td>
<td>83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Contemporary Overcoat Trends</td>
<td>84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kaps</td>
<td>84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Loose-fitting, Long Overcoats: A New Cosmopolitan Aesthetics</td>
<td>90</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CHAPTER FOUR: SKIRTS AND TROUSERS</th>
<th>95</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. The Appearance of the Modern Skirt</td>
<td>97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Skirts in Ottoman Fashions and the New Figure of the Muslim Woman</td>
<td>97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wearing “Dutch Skirts” in the Netherlands</td>
<td>99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>From büzgülü Long Skirts to Ready-Made Maxi Skirts</td>
<td>104</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Are Skirts More “Islamic”? ........................................................................................................ 108

Skirts in the Presentation of Piety ................................................................................................. 113

3. Styling the Personal .................................................................................................................. 116

A Passion for Tailoring .................................................................................................................. 116

Denim Skirts .................................................................................................................................. 118

Young Professionals in Skirts and Trousers .................................................................................. 123

Medeni Türk Kızı: Wearing Long Skirts in Family Settings ......................................................... 125

Running the Risk of Transgression: Slitted, Fishtail, and Three-quarter Skirts ......................... 129

CHAPTER FIVE: WEARING MAKEUP ............................................................................................. 135

1. Care of the Self and the Management of Beauty ....................................................................... 136

2. Invisible Makeup ......................................................................................................................... 139

3. Different Effects of Makeup ....................................................................................................... 143

4. Makeup and the Intimate Self ..................................................................................................... 146

CHAPTER SIX: FESTIVE OCCASIONS AND FESTIVE TESETTÜR .................................................. 150

1. Düğünlükler: Festive Clothing .................................................................................................... 152

2. To Veil or Not to Veil: A Bride’s Dilemma ............................................................................... 155

3. Tesettür Coiffure ......................................................................................................................... 162

CHAPTER SEVEN: HEADSCARVES .................................................................................................. 171

1. Narratives of the Modern Headscarf ........................................................................................... 175

   From Yaşmak to Atatürk Eşarbi ............................................................................................... 175

   The Emergence of the “Consciously Islamic” Headscarf ............................................................... 181

   Conversion Stories ....................................................................................................................... 183

   Being a Sartorial Minority in the Netherlands: “Who do They Think I Am?” ......................... 191
2. Silk Scarves and Cotton Shawls

The Materiality of Silk Scarves, Care Tags and Care of the Self

“A Passion for Silk is Contagious”

Silken Boundaries

Shawls (Şallar): Cotton, Plain and Cosmopolitan

CHAPTER EIGHT: CONCLUSIONS

1. Continuities and Ambiguities

2. Looking into Wardrobes: Multiple Longings and Belongings

3. Transnational & Cosmopolitan Aesthetics in the Turkish-Dutch Tesettür Scene

LIST OF FIGURES

BIBLIOGRAPHY