Intermediality and politics in theatre and performance

Dapp, G.S.

Citation for published version (APA):
Dapp, G. S. (2013). Intermediality and politics in theatre and performance

General rights
It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other than for strictly personal, individual use, unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Disclaimer/Complaints regulations
If you believe that digital publication of certain material infringes any of your rights or (privacy) interests, please let the Library know, stating your reasons. In case of a legitimate complaint, the Library will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website. Please Ask the Library: http://uba.uva.nl/en/contact, or a letter to: Library of the University of Amsterdam, Secretariat, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, The Netherlands. You will be contacted as soon as possible.
Table of Contents

Summary ................................................................................................................................................. 5
Samenvatting van het academisch proefschrift ................................................................. 9
Introduction: Intermediality and Politics in Theatre and Performance .................................. 13
  The Concept of Media .................................................................................................................. 18
  Intermediality and Theatre ................................................................................................. 25
  Intermediality and Politics ................................................................................................. 36
Writing on Intermediality and Politics: Findings of the Individual Chapters ............. 46
  Chapter 1: Rimini Protokoll – A Communitarian Approach to the Politics of Intermediality  47
  Chapter 2: Christoph Schlingensief's 'Bitte liebt Österreich – erste europäische Koalitionswoche' - Antagonism, Provocation, and the Contingency of an Intermedial Performance ............................................................................................................................................................................. 50
  Chapter 3: liquid skin – Intermedial Thresholds of the Human Being, Technology, and Media ............................................................................................................................................................................................................. 52
1 Rimini Protokoll – A Communitarian Approach to Intermediality ................................. 54
  Company Background and General Methods ........................................................................ 54
  Karl Marx: Das Kapital, Band 1 – An Economics of Intermedial Politicity ......................... 65
    Mise-en-scène and Dramaturgy: Das Kapital as an Object of Inquiry into the Lives of the Experts .................................................................................................................................................................................. 67
    Deconstructing The Perception Process ........................................................................... 71
    Performing Modes of Perceiving Mediality ...................................................................... 83
    The Politicity of 'Value': Intermediality as a Paradigm of Communal Heterogeneity? ....... 89
    An Open Invitation ............................................................................................................. 97
  Mnemopark: Redefining Reality and Liveness in Intermediality ........................................ 100
    Structure and Dramaturgy ............................................................................................ 102
    Mediality and its Thresholds: Liveness in an Intermedial Environment ......................... 107
    The Intermedial 'Fold': Staging an 'Inside-Outness' of the Intermedial Perspective ....... 116
    Equality and Difference: The Problem of Media Interaction ..................................... 120
    Crafting an Intermedial Performance Environment, or: “Outsourcing Creativity” ....... 127
  Cargo Sofia X: Tele-Technology, Globalization, and Culture ............................................ 130
    Mise-en-scène and Dramaturgy ....................................................................................... 130
    Transportation – More Than Tele-Technology ................................................................ 135
The Mediality of Globalization..............................................................................................138
Thresholds of Connection and Separation: The Paradox of Mediality..............................147
The Concept of Freedom in a Globalized Medial Environment........................................153
Individual Corporeality and the Politics of Aesthetics.......................................................159
A “Communitarian” Intermediality....................................................................................168

2 Christoph Schlingensief’s 'Bitte liebt Österreich – erste europäische Koalitionswoche' -

Antagonism, Provocation, and the Contingency of an Intermedial Performance..............171
Mise-en-scène and General Methodology.............................................................................173
Dramaturgy and Socio-Political Context.............................................................................188
Functions of Media and Intermedial Aspects of the 'Aktion'................................................192
  Medial Functions of the Container....................................................................................196
  Thresholds Between Theatricality and Performativity......................................................203
  Corporeality as a Catalyst for Meditality..........................................................................211
  Medial Functions of the Slogans......................................................................................215
  'External' Media.............................................................................................................219
The Provocation of Contingency: Approaching a Political Dimension...............................225
  Boundaries of 'Reality': The Politics of F(o)unding 'Art'..................................................231
  Biopolitics in a Medial Environment..............................................................................239
'Intermediality, 'Politics' and the Totalization of 'The Political'...........................................247

3 liquid skin – Intermedial Thresholds of the Human Being, Technology, and Media......254
Prologue...............................................................................................................................255
Mise-en-scène and Dramaturgical Context.........................................................................256
  Plot, Action, Story Fragments.........................................................................................258
  'Liquidity' and 'Spatialisation': Liquified Intermediality..................................................268
  The Body as Medial Threshold and 'Living' Image..........................................................275
Intermedial Liminality: Human Identity, Medial Environment and (Bio-)Politics...............284
  Scenes of Birth and Death: How Does the Individual Enter / Become a Part of Its Environment?.................................................................................................................285
  Scenes of Functional Ambiguity: The Human Being Within (a Mediatized) Human Plurality
  ...............................................................................................................................................291
The Art of Affirming Corporeal Identity in a Liquid Modernity........................................300
Towards Intermedial Politicity in Performance.....................................................................307
Bibliography........................................................................................................................................315
Media, Performances, and Websites...................................................................................................330
Rimini Protokoll................................................................................................................................330
Schlingensief......................................................................................................................................331
Igneous.............................................................................................................................................332

Illustration Index
Figure 1: Set of Karl Marx: Das Kapital, Band 1..............................................................................66
Figure 2: The Shannon-Weaver model of communication...............................................................72
Figure 3: Microphones amplify the voices of the experts.................................................................74
Figure 4: The performative act of burning money produces significational ambiguity..................80
Figure 5: Illustrating the concept of 'use-value' in a book exchange...........................................90
Figure 6: The set of Mnemopark.......................................................................................................100
Figure 7: Human and animal experts.............................................................................................104
Figure 8: Intermedial realm between Bollywood and Mnemopark................................................105
Figure 9: Visible chroma-key setup in the flash-back moments......................................................109
Figure 10: Figurines prêt-à-porter and catalogue as distribution of the sensible............................122
Figure 11: Max Kurrus is trapped in the white model landscape representing the future............124
Figure 12: Truck / audience space of Cargo Sofia X......................................................................130
Figure 13: Opening sequence Cargo Sofia.......................................................................................131
Figure 14: Performances of the singer as a 'conscious' medial expert........................................139
Figure 15: Family photos as an incursion of mediality.................................................................140
Figure 16: Europa-Park and food as indicators for a mediality of globalization............................142
Figure 17: The containers next to the Vienna Staatsoper during the 'Aktion' (Ausländer Raus! movie stills)...........................................................................................................................................174
Figure 18: Schematics of the mechanisms creating a threshold between theatricality and performativity.................................................................................................................................205
Figure 19: A woman as a re-appearing external participant (Ausländer Raus! movie still)........211
Figure 20: Container with 'Ausländer Raus!' sign (montage by Paul Poet)....................................216
Figure 21: Bystander calling for the killing of asylum seekers (Ausländer Raus! movie still)......238
Figure 22: The cover plate for Hobbes' Leviathan illustrating the concept of Society as a body. 240
Figure 23: Schematics of the structure.............................................................................................262
Figure 24: Spiral structure of performance and analysis.....................................................................264
Figure 25: Dancer and reflection create a rhombus shape.................................................................268
Figure 26: Filmed images of the dancer's face and its transformation...........................................276
Figure 27: Prohibition sign..............................................................................................................277
Figure 28: Vitruvian man................................................................................................................278
Figure 29: Tripling of presence..........................................................................................................279
Figure 30: Text fragments.................................................................................................................286
Figure 31: Hiding instance of supervision and control......................................................................292
Figure 32: Politics as emerging within the interplay between exclusion, inclusion, and mediality.308

The images from Rimini Protokoll's productions are being used by the kind permission of Rimini Protokoll.

The images from the DVD “Foreigners out! Schlingensief’s Container” (2002) are being used by the kind permission of Paul Poet.

The images from liquid skin are being used by the kind permission of Suzon Fuks.