Acknowledgements

First praise is to Allah, the Almighty, for giving me enough strength and courage to complete the PhD journey. Now I am close to obtaining the PhD degree, it is the time to thank all those people who directly or indirectly helped me during this journey.

First of all, I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my promoter, Prof. Peter Sloot and my co-promoter, Dr. Alfons Hoekstra for their excellent supervision and intellectual guidance. Alfons, I really appreciate your sincere efforts and the time you have spent in my development as a researcher. I feel privileged to have been able to work with you. You have been a source of constant support and encouragement for me and I simply couldn't have done it without you.

Special thanks to my thesis committee members Prof. Patricia V. Lawford, Dr. Jaap Kaandorp, Prof. E.T. van Bavel, Prof. F.N. van de Vosse and Dr. R.M.H Merks for investing time to review my thesis and providing me valuable suggestions and feedback.

I would like to offer my special thanks to Dr. Carles Bona-Casas for his constant guidance and help during the past few years which finally allowed me to reach to the end of the PhD journey. I have wasted a lot of your time but believe me; I have learned many things from you. Thank you so much Carles for your sincere support and being so nice.

I also owe special thanks to my office mates Dr. Eric Lorenz, Joris Borgdorff and Lampros Mountrakis for their constant support and encouragement during the PhD. Joris, I deeply appreciate your help in translating the thesis summary into Dutch language and your time-to-time help for translating Dutch letters.

I would also like to take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank to all the present and former members of the SCS group for creating a pleasant atmosphere at work and during coffee breaks. I am particularly grateful to Quoc Chinh Bui, Daniel Botman, Narjes Javaheri, Emiliano Mancini, Rick Quax, Narges Zarrabi, Max Filatov, Nol Chindapol, Paula Silva, Syed Murtaza and Gokhan for all the interesting discussions and useful suggestions. I must thank the SCS secretariat office especially Petra Best, Erik Hitipuew and Brechtje Schipper for their vital guidance and help.

A special thanks goes to Dr. Andrew Narracott, Dr. Javaid Iqbal and Dr. Julian Gunn from University of Sheffield for their excellent and productive collaboration.

I also would like to thank all my friends for being there for me especially Azmat Ullah Khan and Poonam Sharma for being my tea, coffee and lunch buddies. Azmat, I miss those days when you were here. I had spent a very good time with you and I also cannot forget those wonderful lunches, dinners and fun activities we have done together. I am also thankful to the rest of my Pakistani friends, especially Sajjad Zaheer, for their encouragement and friendship during my stay in Netherlands.

Last but not the least, none of this would have been possible without the love and patience of my family. My parents to whom this dissertation is dedicated to, has been a constant source of love, concern, support and strength all these years. I would like to express my heart-felt gratitude to my father who was always there for me until April this year (May Allah grant his soul eternal peace, Ameen). I miss you Dad. Big thanks to my sisters Zunaira and Zaeema who have never left my side and are very special. And a special thanks to my beloved wife, Maria, for standing by me and giving me her moral support in whatever I do.
