‘The honourable gentleman should make up his mind’ : strategic manoeuvring with accusations of inconsistency in Prime Minister’s Question Time
Mohammed, D.A.

Citation for published version (APA):
Mohammed, D. A. (2009). ‘The honourable gentleman should make up his mind’ : strategic manoeuvring with accusations of inconsistency in Prime Minister's Question Time

General rights
It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other than for strictly personal, individual use, unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Disclaimer/Complaints regulations
If you believe that digital publication of certain material infringes any of your rights or (privacy) interests, please let the Library know, stating your reasons. In case of a legitimate complaint, the Library will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website. Please Ask the Library: http://uba.uva.nl/en/contact, or a letter to: Library of the University of Amsterdam, Secretariat, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, The Netherlands. You will be contacted as soon as possible.
CONTENTS

1 Accusations of Inconsistency as a Response to Criticism .......... 7
  1.1 A common argumentative practice in Prime Minister's Question Time ................................................................. 7
  1.2 A pragma-dialectical approach to the Prime Minister’s accusations .... 10
  1.3 Objectives and organisation of this study ................................................. 17
2 Strategic Manoeuvring with Accusations of Inconsistency .......... 21
  2.1 Explicit attempts to avoid a discussion ................................................. 21
  2.2 The elimination of the initial disagreement ........................................ 26
  2.3 A dialectical profile of the confrontation stage ............................... 29
  2.4 Strategic manoeuvring to rule out a standpoint ............................... 37
  2.5 Accusations of inconsistency to rule out a standpoint .......................... 42
3 Prime Minister's Question Time ....................................................... 51
  3.1 Towards an empirically adequate account of institutionalised argumentative practices ................................................. 51
  3.2 The argumentative practice of Question Time ...................................... 57
  3.3 The institutional aims of the argumentative practice ............................ 64
  3.4 The argumentative activity type of Question Time .............................. 72
4 The Strategic Function of Responding to Criticism with Accusations of Inconsistency ......................................................... 81
  4.1 Pursuing an institutionally strategic outcome in argumentative sub-confrontations ................................................................. 81
  4.2 Handling the institutional obligation to address arguments from the Opposition ................................................................. 90
  4.3 Making strategic choices of topics, audience frames and stylistic devices .............................................................................. 99
  4.4 Characteristics of a particular way of confrontational manoeuvring.. 102
5 The Reasonableness of Responding to Criticism with Accusations of Inconsistency .............................................................. 111
  5.1 The reasonableness of strategic manoeuvring to rule out a standpoint ................................................................. 112
5.2  Soundness conditions for strategic manoeuvring to rule out a standpoint by means of an accusation of inconsistency ...................... 116
  5.2.1  Requirement of responsiveness ...................................................... 117
  5.2.2  Requirement of continuity ............................................................... 123
  5.2.3  Requirement of freedom ................................................................. 127
5.3  Institutional considerations for reasonableness ................................. 130

6  Conclusion ............................................................................................ 137
  6.1  Findings of the study ........................................................................... 137
  6.2  Discussion of the findings ................................................................... 143

References .................................................................................................. 151

Author Index ............................................................................................ 157

Summary ................................................................................................... 159

Samenvatting ............................................................................................ 163