They will get there! Studies on educational performance of immigrant youth in the Netherlands

van Welie, E.A.A.M.

Citation for published version (APA):
List of Appendices

Appendix 2-1: Highest completed level of education, by age and ethnicity (2007) 36
Appendix 2-2: Percentage of pupils with initial qualification for the labour market (ISCED 3 and higher), by ethnicity and age cohort (2007) 37
Appendix 2-3: Percentage of pupils with primary education as highest completed level, by ethnicity and age cohort (2007) 37
Appendix 2-4: Enrolment of 16 year-olds by ethnicity in senior general education (HAVO, ISCED 3) and pre-university education (VWO, ISCED 3) 38
Appendix 2-5: Percentage of pupils enrolled in academic track in Year 3 of secondary school (school year 2011/2012), mean neighbourhood SES (scale -4 to +4), and percentage of pupils eligible for weighted student funding when they were enrolled in elementary education. 39
Appendix 2-6: Data scatter, linear (OLS) and LOWESS regression of the percentage of 16 year-old native Dutch pupils on the percentage of 16 year-olds of Moroccan descent at zip level in the four major cities in the Netherlands 40
Appendix 3-1: Comparison of the two main data sets. 66
Appendix 4-1: Maps of Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Utrecht and The Hague. 110
Appendix 4-2: LOWESS regression (Locally Weighted Scatterplot Smoothing; bandwidth = .6) and linear regression (OLS) of the extra distance travelled to the preferred school (as compared with the nearest school) and school’s mean final exam score (national standardized exam score) 115
Appendix 4-3: Regression results (OLS) for difference in the mean relative exam score at school level (i.e. the actual school exam score minus exam score at the nearest school), considering non-nearest school choosers only 116
Appendix 4-4: Regression results (OLS) for difference in school percentage of upward mobility to a higher track (i.e. upward mobility at the actual school minus upward mobility at the nearest school), considering non-nearest school choosers only 117
Appendix 5-1: General characteristics of the six participating schools. 153
Appendix 5-2: Format of the first interview 153
Appendix 5-3: Questions for the evaluating interview 155
Appendix 5-4: Questions and matches per school 156