Particles matter: Transformation of suspended particles in constructed wetlands
Mulling, B.T.M.

Citation for published version (APA):

General rights
It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other than for strictly personal, individual use, unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Disclaimer/Complaints regulations
If you believe that digital publication of certain material infringes any of your rights or (privacy) interests, please let the Library know, stating your reasons. In case of a legitimate complaint, the Library will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website. Please Ask the Library: http://uba.uva.nl/en/contact, or a letter to: Library of the University of Amsterdam, Secretariat, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, The Netherlands. You will be contacted as soon as possible.
Acknowledgements
I would like to start with thanking the people that were directly involved in this project for the last four years. Harm I always enjoyed our meetings in which you were able to take care of the finishing touch, I could count on you to have my back in difficult situations and I will always have good memories of our great trips to Barcelona and Prague (budete se dostat zpět do člunu). Wim, your door was always open with an attentive ear, although I think I sometimes talked a little bit too much for you. I would like to thank you for all the good suggestions and remarks on all the papers. Joost, besides our chats about outdoor activities, our meetings were always very productive and with your eye for detail and different view on results, you often found additional matters of interest. Rob, with all your experience in constructed wetlands and your network you were always a good source of information and I especially enjoyed arranging the large field experiments together in the beginning of the project. All together I am grateful for having a good advisory committee, I have learned a lot from each of you and I want to thank you all for the support and input during this Ph.D. project.

Secondly I would like to thank my family who has always supported me. Marieke I have been lucky that you are also knowledgeable in ecological research, which allowed you not only to be an immensely important physical, mental and emotional support in my life, but also work together on research topics. My greatest gratitude is for you my love and I hope that we will be able to support each other for long times to come. Mom and dad, I want to thank you for always supporting me in all the things I wanted to do, even do that path was not always clear. Joke and Richard I also want to thank you for your support and for the many nights I was able to stay over whenever it was needed. I also want to thank other family members for their support and the countless times they provided some much needed distraction from all the work.

Of course I want to thank all my colleagues I had during the past four years. Ellard and Marino you two were the only two Ph.D. students working in the department when I started and we certainly had some good times (even though you two needed to get use to a non-beer drinker). Ale, Merrin en Raul, you were always in for drinks and good relaxing conversations and I’m glad that we have great times together both in Holland and in Belgium. Susanne and Sasha I have enjoyed the many tea breaks, walks, drinks and accompanying conversations, and I hope I did not complain too much to you at the end of the project. Ciska and Brittany, you two came into the group a little bit later, but I certainly enjoyed your company. To all my Ph.D. colleagues I wish all the best in all you are doing and hope we will have many future opportunities to raise the glass together. Helen you were my first roommate and I could not have had a better one, and I hope you will quickly find a good place that suits your wishes and of course you are always welcome to come over a try some of good whiskeys. Michiel, I will never forgot how many stories you can tell and I will miss them. I wish you the best and hope calmer weather is on the horizon for you. Bas and Jasper, you two were also always good conversation partners and I wish you all the best. Arie, you started at working at the department just after I moved to Germany and we did not see each other that much, but nonetheless we already had very good times and I certainly hope you will enjoy being a 'paranimf'. Leo, many thanks for all the help and advice you have provided over the course of this project. My field experiments would not have been successful without massive help and support from a lot of people. Rinse, Michel and Peter many thanks for your commitment and all the good times we had. Special thanks go out for Hans, you stood by me from before dawn till after dusk, I will commemorate your energy and drive. Ron and Yolanda, I also want to thank you for the pleasant collaboration and good times during the WIPE project. During this project I have had the pleasure of working with several students. Christine, you were my first student and although it wasn't always rosy, I wish you luck in your future endeavors. Anne and Daan, we worked only relatively short time together, but I thoroughly enjoyed it. Maxine, Simon and Zoi, thank you for all the work and wish you all good luck in your career.

The list of people to thank almost seem endless, but there are still several people I would like to thank. Jenny, Caterina (there is enough whiskey for you too), Angelica, Kristen and everybody else at IGB, I thank you for the shamefully short, but very good period in Germany. I wish you all the best and I'm sure we will see each other again. Karlijn and Miranda I want to thank you both for all the support you have given me especially during the last part of this thesis. Both the mental reflections and the insides from a person that recently went through same ordeal were very important. David, thank you for all the support you provided during the past four years, including all the moving from house to house and the many good times of distraction (not sure if I have 'enough' whiskey for you). I hope your new career path will work out!