ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Roel Boomsma was born on May 13, 1986 in Venhuizen, The Netherlands. He obtained a Bachelor of Science (BSc) degree in Economics and Business at the University of Amsterdam in 2007. During his BSc studies, he spent five months doing an internship at BDO CampsObers Audit and Assurance in Hoorn. In 2009, after finalising a thesis on how accountability was perceived within the Dutch non-governmental development organisation Oxfam Novib, he received his Master of Science (MSc) degree (cum laude) in Accountancy and Control at the University of Amsterdam.

In 2008, Roel started the PhD research described in this thesis. Throughout his PhD he presented his research at a number of international conferences, including the Centre for Social and Environmental Accounting Research (CSEAR) annual conference in St. Andrews University, Scotland in 2008 and 2009; the Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Accounting (IPA) conference at the Innsbruck University School of Management, Austria in 2009; the Annual Alternative Accounts conference at York University in Toronto, Canada in 2010; the Asia Pacific Interdisciplinary Research in Accounting (APIRA) conference at the University of Sydney, Australia in 2010; the European Accounting Association (EAA) doctoral colloquium and conference in Siena and Rome, Italy in 2011; and the Critical Perspectives on Accounting (CPA) conference in Florida, United States in 2011. Roel was also an active member of the Centre for Social and Environmental Accounting Research (CSEAR) and Research Center on Accounting and Control Change (RACC).

During his PhD, Roel taught a number of courses, including Financial Statement Analysis, Financial Accounting and Sustainability, Accountability and Ethics, and provided Bachelor and Master thesis supervision on a broad range of topics.

In 2013, Roel started working as an Assistant Professor of Accounting, with an emphasis on accounting and accountability in non-governmental organisations, at the Amsterdam Business School, University of Amsterdam.
