

UvA-DARE (Digital Academic Repository)

Financial intermediation and monetary transmission through conventional and Islamic channels

Zaheer, S.

Link to publication

Citation for published version (APA):

Zaheer, S. (2013). Financial intermediation and monetary transmission through conventional and Islamic channels.

General rights

It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other than for strictly personal, individual use, unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Disclaimer/Complaints regulations

If you believe that digital publication of certain material infringes any of your rights or (privacy) interests, please let the Library know, stating your reasons. In case of a legitimate complaint, the Library will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website. Please Ask the Library: <https://uba.uva.nl/en/contact>, or a letter to: Library of the University of Amsterdam, Secretariat, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, The Netherlands. You will be contacted as soon as possible.

Acknowledgements

All praise be to God who alone is the Creator, Master and Sovereign of the universe. He who has created man, endowed him with knowledge and reason, made him His vicegerent on earth, and has sent His Books and Messengers to guide him. May God bless all those righteous and noble servants of His who were appointed to teach man how to live as true human beings and who made man aware of the real purpose of his life, and showed him the right way to live in this world.

During my work on thesis I have benefited from various organizations and many people whom I would like to thank. I am grateful to Higher Education Commission of Pakistan, State Bank of Pakistan and University of Amsterdam for providing me the opportunity to complete my PhD dissertation. I am especially thankful to my promoter Prof. Sweder van Wijnbergen and co-promoter Prof. Steven Ongena for supervising the thesis, sharing knowledge, and providing invaluable guidance and encouragement to complete my work. I am thankful to Sweder for providing me sufficient freedom in selecting the topics of my interest for research and for imparting theoretical understanding of the concepts in conventional Economics and Finance in relation to Islamic Finance. I am also indebted to Steven who helped me in empirical research and responded to my online queries promptly.

I would also like to thank Frank Klaassen for helping me in issues related to Econometrics, showing great openness to my spontaneous visits and queries and, sometimes, letting me win ping pong! I must also express my thanks to Roel Beetsma, Massimo Giuliadori, Maurice Bun, Dirk Veestraeten, Christian Stoltenberg and Ward Romp from all of whom I have learned many concepts of Economics by attending their lectures.

I really enjoyed the company of all my colleagues in the UvA and TI. I thank all of them: Zara, Markus, John, Naomi, Tim, Matija, Petr, Damiaan, Boele, Lucyna, Christiaan, Zina, Joris and Lin. I am also grateful to Wilma, Robert, Katja, Jose, Kees, Karin Ana and others in the faculty secretariat who always facilitated me in PhD procedures and administrative matters. I would also like to thank my co-author in couple of papers Moazzam for his cooperation in data and working jointly. There are also many friend who must not go unmentioned. Thank you Faisal, Nadeem, Azmat, Hannan, Ghaffar, Rashid and others for your help and support in many real life matters. I am also grateful to the Dutch community in general who provided me friendly atmosphere to live a very calm and peaceful life in the Netherlands. I felt free to follow rituals and values of my religion which provided me spiritual satisfaction and tranquility. Many thank also go to my friends in State Bank of Pakistan for their time to time help. Thank you Akmal, Riaz, Shamil, Jazil, Mukhtar, Zahid, Ishaq and others.

Finally, and most importantly, I would like to give especial thanks to my wife, brothers and sisters, cousins and in-laws for their great support, encouragement and prayers during my PhD research.

Amsterdam, August 2013