Internationalisation of Higher Education in the United States of America and Europe

de Wit, J.W.M.

Citation for published version (APA):

General rights
It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other than for strictly personal, individual use, unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Disclaimer/Complaints regulations
If you believe that digital publication of certain material infringes any of your rights or (privacy) interests, please let the Library know, stating your reasons. In case of a legitimate complaint, the Library will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website. Please Ask the Library: http://uba.uva.nl/en/contact, or a letter to: Library of the University of Amsterdam, Secretariat, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, The Netherlands. You will be contacted as soon as possible.
Contents

Acknowledgements
Summary
Samenvatting
Contents
List of figures

Introduction

Part One
The historical development of the internationalisation of higher education: A comparative study of the United States of America and Europe

Chapter One
The historical context of the internationalisation of higher education
1. The international dimension of higher education in the medieval ages and renaissance
2. International elements in higher education in the period between the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries
3. The international dimension in the twentieth century
4. The international dimension of higher education after the Cold War
5. Concluding remarks

Chapter Two
The international dimension of higher education in the United States of America
1. Historical aspects of the international dimension of American higher education

1.1. Before the twentieth century: export of European models and individual mobility to Europe
1.2. The first half of the twentieth century: peace and mutual understanding
1.3. After the Second World War: foreign policy and national security
1.4. The impetus of the Cold War
1.5. The 1980s: competitiveness
2. Other stakeholders in international education
3. Concluding remarks
Chapter Three
The international dimension of higher education in Europe

1. Introduction
2. The 1950s and 1960s: laissez-faire
3. The 1970s: the first steps to policies of Europeanisation in education
4. The 1980s: the great leap forward

4.1. Individual mobility
4.2. The research and technological development programmes
4.3. The EC mobility programmes
4.4. The involvement of the EC with the rest of the world

5. The present decade: towards harmonisation of systems and structures
6. The impact of the programmes on the internationalisation of higher education
7. Concluding remarks

Chapter Four
The development of the internationalisation of higher education in the United States of America and Europe: a comparison

Part Two
The internationalisation of higher education: A conceptual framework

Chapter Five
Rationales for the internationalisation of higher education

1. Introduction
2. Political rationales
3. Economic rationales
4. Cultural and social rationales
5. Academic rationales
6. Shifts in rationales

Chapter Six
Meanings of and approaches to 'international education' and the 'internationalisation of higher education'

1. Meanings of the internationalisation of higher education

1.1. The origins of international education
1.2. Meanings of international education and the internationalisation of
Chapter Seven
Strategies and organisation models for the internationalisation of higher education

1. Strategies
2. Organisation models for the internationalisation of higher education
3. Concluding remarks

Part Three
Thematic issues in the internationalisation of higher education

Chapter Eight
Globalisation, regionalisation and the internationalisation of higher education

1. Globalisation and the internationalisation of higher education
   1.1. The knowledge society
   1.2. Transnational education
2. Regionalisation and the internationalisation of higher education
3. Concluding remarks

Chapter Nine
Quality and the internationalisation in higher education

1. Introduction
2. The IQRP project and process
   2.1. An introduction to the IQRP project and process
   2.2. The IQRP framework
3. From the pilot project IQRP to the IQR service
4. Reflections on using the IQRP
   4.1. Application of the IQRP in different contexts
   4.2. Practical issues in using the IQRP
5. Other quality assurance instruments and their relationship to the IQRP
6. The internationalisation of quality assurance and the quality assurance of internationalisation
Chapter Ten
The emergence of English as the common language in higher education

1. Introduction 167
2. Teaching in English in the Netherlands: a case study 168
3. Educational aspects of teaching in a foreign language 173
4. Concluding remarks 174

Chapter Eleven
The rise of regional and international academic networks and alliances

1. Trends in academic co-operation 177
2. Meanings 178
3. A typology 178
4. Success and failure factors 183
5. The future of institutional networks 186

Chapter Twelve
Internationalisation of higher education as a research area

1. Introduction 189
2. Comparative higher education research and internationalisation of higher education 191
3. Internationalisation of higher education, a research need 191

References 195