I hope that in the next “most read” pages I can express my gratitude to ALL that contributed (directly or indirectly) to the realization of this thesis.

In general, I would like to thank all my colleagues from Cell Biology & Histology for creating a nice work (and social) environment to be.

First of all I would like to acknowledge my co-promoter, Esther. Thanks for your guidance and being supportive and encouraging especially during my “dipjes” when I did not believe that I would have enough and nice data to put in this thesis. Not forgetting the help with shortening my huge discussions and 1000 references, and for editing the Dutch summary.

Dear Martien, my promotor, thanks for sharing your knowledge with me and for your enthusiastic and encouraging discussions. It was really a good experience to work with you.

My special thanks to Prof. Jan Bos, also my promotor, for your support and for all you have taught me about the exciting but complicated disease atopic dermatitis.

Professor Maria de Sousa, I am indebted to you for introducing me to the beautiful world of Immunology.

My special thanks to all my “roomies”!!! First, Catharien, Pawel and Annabeth. I had great fun at the “Oude gast huis” and at the first AIO dinner at the African restaurant when we had to eat with our own hands… Then Jeanine and Heleen, dear fantastic “meisjes”, thanks for always listen to me, to all my complains… For all the fun we had with “The Sixth Sense”: “I see drunk/crazy/etc people”. And for all the nice and “lekkere” dinners followed by playing “De kolonisten van Catan” (do not forget that I won the first time!!!). Thanks to my last roomies: Kirsten, Lianne, Clare and Ellen, I had a very nice time with you at L3-355!!

Dear Hermelijn also roomy for a short, but nice, time. I thank you for your nice tips where to find a new lab to do a postdoc and for the nice tea with cookies chats.

Esther and Hermelijn, thanks for the nice 8 o’clock coffee chats, for organizing the (scary!! but very nice) lab weekends and the delicious “visser-borrels”.

My special thanks to Trees Pierik for your support in 1000 things since my first day in The Netherlands: housing (for more than 2 times) and secretarial help (submitting papers, writing letters for the foreign police, etc).

Dear Pawel, also thanks for our long distance “e-mail conversations/discussions” about research and frustrations of a PhD. You always showed me “the bright side of life”.

Dear Toni, the “BDCA Queen”, without your excellent help it would be impossible to finish in time. Not forgetting that you were always smiling even if you had a lot of work to do.

Joost, thanks for helping me with everything: computer problems, ordering “strange” stuff, being patience with my numerous questions and for excellent help with finishing the experiments for Chapter 3.

Dear Jan W., thanks!! It is amazing how you can solve “small/big” problems and most importantly with a smile on your face.

Björn C., actually Big B., for your outstanding help in Chapter 4, and more!

Cynthia, thanks for teaching me (a long time ago) how to handle the skin and for the nice chats during our coffee and Vifi breaks.

Gamze thanks for the psoriatic KC and for our long conversations in front of the WC.

Thanks to the Internal Medicine boys, Henri and Jan van der B., for the good laugh during during the isolation of monocytes and Jan also for the nice discussions about Jazz music!
Acknowledgments

My special thanks to the people at the Department of Dermatology: Folkert, Wouter and Gabrielle, for providing me with atopic dermatitis patient material. And Erwin van L. for helping me with the “patient information” protocol.

I thank all the known (Celbiologie: yes, you!; Lipid boys: Joost, Thomas, Hein; Virology boys: Tim, Chris, Bill Paxton) and unknown donors that contributed with more than 8 ml of blood that made all my experiments possible.

Dear Pedro, ai zzzzzzzz 🌻, thanks for everything (the list of things is too long...))!!

Thanks my friends spread all over Europe, for whom the distance did not matter: Sheila (Paris), Orlando (London), Rosa (Portugal and Timor), Clara (Portugal) and Ana Cristina (Portugal). You are really the “núcleo duro”. Querida Sheila, thanks for filling in the forms (for me) for application to the “Mestrado de Imunologia”, I can say that you were the “fire starter”!!

Thanks to my friends from Setúbal: Xana & Nuno, Tété & Viegas, Miguel and Zé for the nice times during my always-short holidays in Portugal!

Thanks to the friends I do not see for a long time but fortunately e-mail exists: Maria Vieira (as fotos do teu David carinha laroca sempre me puseram um sorriso nos lábios), Miguel João e João Daniel.

Thanks to my “Dutch” friends for making my life here in The Netherlands much easier: Sascha, René & Jip (for making my life here in Holland much easier); Dick, Aysheline & kids (for the nice evenings, watching Ajax games, Portugal games, Curacao holidays, etc); Amber (for the nice parties, wild nights, high-tea, etc); Christina (met H; you are really cool!); Hester & Jaap (for the nice sailing weekends); Douwe & Aurora (also for the nice sailing weekends, koninginnen dagen, etc); Bart, Sylvia, Naut & Yrsa; the boys and girls from “de Molen” (Lieke & Frank; Bo; Gerry, Rob & Diane) for the wonderful afternoons drinking beer in your company, and for the Van Dijke Brown concerts.

Thanks to my PhD (Personal help Dick Drayer) for helping me with the computer at home and all the helpful tips for the layout of this thesis.

Querida Susana, Rainha dos "marmosets", you will always be on my memory. I will never forget our long conversations on the phone and our “wild” nights in Amsterdam and Delft.

Querida Dona Dores, unfortunately you are not here anymore with us. I will never forget the sweet faxes you have sent to us (me and Pedro), always concerned whether your “meninos” were adapting to the “dutchies” and off course to the weather. One thing (beside others) you were right: “Amsterdam is just the beginning of all the experiences we have in front of us”. I really miss your love and care.

Querida Laura, minha “paranimfa”, amiga, obrigada por seres uma pessoa maravilhosa.

Dear sweet Francine thanks for being my friend and my paranimf. Muchas gracias muchacha!!

I would like to thank the families Hoogenboom (Cok and Gerrit) and Sanders (Marjanne, Peter, Tim & Renee) for your love, care and for making me feel welcome.

I would like to thank the family Hackenberg (Jacques & Marguerite), Astrid & David, Inez, Tavito, Laurens & Neiva, Onno, Tedje, Deborah & Sam, Omi and Jobby for making feel part of the family and for the nice times in The Netherlands (Maarheeze, Geldrop, Utrecht, Boswijk and Kielwindewe) and in France (La Magnerie and Bibendum; the latest where I spend some time and got inspiration for writing this thesis).

Agradeço a minha família em Portugal (Eugénia & Guilherme, Luis & Lúcia, Bé, tia & tio, Carina, avó Arminda) por estarem sempre presentes e por sempre me ouvirem.

Thanks to my family in London, Carla & Angus Roberston, for always receiving me (and Ronald) in London to release some of the PhD stress (by visiting nice pubs, Guinness, watching Arsenal games, nice walks in the parks and much more).

Muchas gracias a mi familia en Madrid, mi hermana Ana, for the nice conversations on the phone. You have the gift of transmitting (to me) a lot of positive energy (that was needed to continue)!!

Querido Pai, querida Mãe, obrigada pelo vosso carinho (que à distância melhor se saboreia), compreensão e por me terem dado a liberdade de sair “debaixo das vossas saias” para explorar outros cantos da Europa a 2300 km de distância de vocês.

Meu querido sobrinho Guilherme, obrigada pelas deliciosas conversas telefónicas e por teres desenhado a capa da minha tese. Estou mesmo muito orgulhosa de ti.

Lieve Ronald, Ronaldinho, for your love, for being patience and understanding that doing a PhD also means lack of free days, long working days and work during the weekends. Without you it would be difficult to achieve what I have achieved.

Hartelijk bedankt!!
Thanks!!
Obrigada!!
