Salivary gland carcinoma. Stepping up the prognostic ladder
vander Poorten, V.L.M.

Citation for published version (APA):
vander Poorten, V. L. M. (2002). Salivary gland carcinoma. Stepping up the prognostic ladder
Acknowledgements

Consummatum est.
(Mission accomplished)
Guido Gezelle, 1899

Carpe diem, quam minimum credula postero.
(enjoy today, do not trust tomorrow)
Horatius, Oden, 1.11.8
Acknowledgements

This work could never have been accomplished without the support and help of a lot of people, both in Belgium and in the Netherlands. I would like to thank wholeheartedly everybody who contributed

To the research presented in this thesis:

Elly S.M. de Lange de Klerk, MD, PhD
Louw Feenstra, MD, PhD
Frans J.M. Hilgers, MD, PhD
Barbara M. Loftus-Coll, MD
Floor E. van Leeuwen PhD, MSc
Willem J. Klokman, MD, MSc
I Bing Tan, MD, PhD

The members of the promotional commission: Michiel W.M van den Brekel, MD, PhD, Jan J.B. van Lanschot, MD PhD, Floor E. van Leeuwen, PhD, MSc, Ashok R. Shaha, MD, Piet J. Slootweg, MD PhD, and Walter Van den Bogaert, MD PhD. Thank you for a critical evaluation and the willingness to take the time to be present here today. A special thanks goes to Prof. Ashok Shaha, dear Ashok, your being here means the world to me.

The members of the Dutch Head and Neck Oncology Cooperative Group

The splendid secretarial assistance of Marion van Zuilen and Lea Van Caneghem

And especially

Alfonsus J.M. Balm, MD PhD, dear Fons, copromotor, mentor and friend, always enthusiastic, never tired. "Den vliegende Hollander – the flying Dutchman" is the picture crossing the mind of a Belgian meeting you.
Augustinus A.M. Hart, MSc, dear Guus, always available, always optimistic but always prudent, essential covariate of this work. "Le Penseur" is the picture crossing the mind of a Belgian meeting you.
Bin B.R. Kroon, MD, PhD and Pierre R. Delaere, MD, PhD, promoters, dear Bin, dear Pierre, thanks for the coaching, support and common sense provided during the genesis of this work.

To my training as otorhinolaryngologist, head and neck surgeon:

The medical staff members of the department of Otorhinolaryngology, Head and Neck Surgery of the University Hospitals Leuven, for creating the possibility of continuing this research during my clinical training: Frans Debruyne, MD PhD, Christian Desloovere, MD PhD, Louw Feenstra, MD PhD, and Willy Wellens, MD. Mark Jorissen, MD PhD thought me all I know about rhinology, with a patience, remarkable for someone with his “drive”.

In my training in head and neck surgery, I am especially indebted to two great surgeons, who influenced me strongly in their own, quite different way. Frans Ostyn, MD, PhD, for teaching me “the art of surgical technique” and being a magnificent teacher. Pierre R Delaere, MD PhD, for teaching me “to focus on the essential” and “to believe in our potential”. Dear Pierre, thanks for your unconditional support and the clear-cut no-nonsense surgical style you taught me.

I would like to thank my friend Robert André and my little sister Sophia Vander Poorten for fulfilling their role as “paranymph” in their typical fresh and lively way.

I also would like to thank my dear uncle, Prof. Joseph Reynaert, for his continuous interest and ever present support from the day I started my medical studies.

I would like to especially thank my parents, who support and stimulate their children in an unbelievable way.

Last but not least, I would like to thank Mie, Cleo and Sandor, for making my heart jump every time I think of them.