CURRICULUM VITAE

Hein Broekkamp was born on April 28th 1969 in Beverwijk (the Netherlands) and completed his secondary schooling in 1988 in Castricum. He studied Psychology at the University of Amsterdam and specialized in Cognitive Psychology, in which he graduated cum laude in 1995. His Master's thesis focused on conflicting textual demands when revising a foreign language text. Since 1992, he works at the Graduate School of Teaching and Learning of the University of Amsterdam, first as a research-assistent, and during the period 1996-2003 as a Phd-student. Both during his Psychology studies and his Phd, he taught several communication skills courses and courses on classroom assessment. From 1996-1997, he joined a research project on teaching problem solving in science and writing. Since 2002, he joins a research project on independent learning by minority and majority students in upper secondary education.
