The solidarity of self-interest: Social and cultural feasibility of rural health insurance in Ghana

Arhinful, D.

Citation for published version (APA):

General rights
It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other than for strictly personal, individual use, unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Disclaimer/Complaints regulations
If you believe that digital publication of certain material infringes any of your rights or (privacy) interests, please let the Library know, stating your reasons. In case of a legitimate complaint, the Library will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website. Please Ask the Library: https://uba.uva.nl/en/contact, or a letter to: Library of the University of Amsterdam, Secretariat, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, The Netherlands. You will be contacted as soon as possible.
Contents

List of figures and tables ix
Acknowledgements x
Summary xii
Samenvatting (Dutch summary) xiv

PART 1 GENERAL, HISTORICAL AND SOCIAL CONTEXT I

Chapter 1 Introduction
Why did Emmanuel Boadi die? An epitome of Ghana’s health care crises 3
Health care crises 5
Theoretical framework 7
Social Security: past and present 7
Background: Social security in Ghana 13
The problem: health insurance in Ghana 14
Objective and research questions 16
Brief overview of community health care financing problem in Africa 17
The fieldwork 20
Study approach 20
Exploratory Phase 21
Evaluation Phase 22
Data analysis 23
Study Limitations 23
Fieldwork limitations 24
Ethical considerations 26
Plan of the book 27

Chapter 2 Health Care in Ghana and how it was paid for: An Historical Perspective (1850-2001)
Introduction 29
Historical foundations of public health services 30
Pre-colonial period before 1850 30
The Colonial Period 32
The early beginnings of modern health care under British colonial administration: 1843-1870 32
Essential foundations of the Gold Coast Medical Department 1872-1920 35
African reception to modern health care 37
The firm foundations of medical services in Ghana: 1920-1930 40
Latter stages of colonial medical services: 1931-50 42
The period before independence: 1951-1957 44
The contribution of the missionaries to health care 47
Postcolonial health care and it’s financing: 1957 to date 49
Concluding remarks 55

Chapter 3 Overview of the three case studies
Introduction 59
The Nkoranza Community Health Insurance Scheme 60
Brief profile of Nkoranza district 60
How did the scheme originate? 60
Design features 63
Membership, benefits and exemptions 63
Administration and financial matters 64
Financial administration 65
How do the parties involved look upon the scheme? 66
The National Health Insurance Scheme (NHIS) pilot project in the Eastern Region 67
Brief profile of Suhum Krabo Coalta district 68
Why a pilot project 69
Design features 70
Proposed policy package 70
Public education programme 70
How do various parties involved look upon insurance? 72
The Dangme West District Health Insurance Project 73
Brief profile of Dodowa district 73
Who took the initiative? 75
Design features 79
Membership and benefit package 79
Management and financial administration 80
How do the various actors look upon the scheme? 81
Brief appraisal of the three schemes in terms of their socio-cultural challenges 82
Concluding remarks 83

Chapter 4 Traditional Social Security Mechanisms in Ghana
Introduction 87
Social framework of traditional social security in Ghana 89
Kinship based family system 89
Marriage institution 90
Economic institution 90
How did the traditional support system function in the past? 91
Old Age Support 92
Help during sickness 93
Support during Death 95
Welfare group support 96
Present day changes in the traditional system of social security 97
Aged support at present 98
Help in sickness at present 98
Help during death 99
Welfare groups nowadays 100
Appraisal of traditional support in historical perspective 102
Context of socio economic changes 106
PART 2 PRIMARY EMPIRICAL FINDINGS

Chapter 5 Perceptions and cultural complexities of health insurance and traditional family support
- Introduction
- Perceptions about health insurance
- Policy perspectives
- Implementer's perception
- Community perceptions
- Positive perceptions
- Negative perceptions
- How do implementers and 'the people' perceive relationship between insurance and traditional family support?
- Implementers' perspective
- Community perspectives
- Is it possible to transform collective solidarity as in funerals into health insurance?
- Concluding remarks

Chapter 6 Solidarity, self-interest and social health insurance
- Introduction
- Solidarity
- Self-interest
- Solidarity in Ghana's health insurance plans
- Why people join or do not join insurance: a case of self-interest?
- Why people join
- Why people are not willing to join
- How do people feel about redistribution effect of solidarity?
- People's motive behind insurance: concrete lessons from Nkoranza district
- Adverse selection
- Moral hazard
- Knowledge about main idea behind insurance: survey finding
- Discussion: The interplay between solidarity and self-interest

Chapter 7 Health insurance and "the poor"
- Introduction
- Policy framework
- Community perspectives
- How "the people" conceptualise "the poor" and express the benefits of social health insurance scheme to the poor
- Why 'the poor' are contested
- How people perceive benefits of insurance to the wider poor in the community
- How can "the poor" who cannot pay be helped?
- Discussion

Chapter 8 The role of the state in the making of community health insurance schemes
- Introduction
- Policy, implementers and health staff perspectives
- People's perspectives: Do the people also look up to the state?
Suhum and Dodowa districts 207
Nkoranza district 210
Discussion: Can the state inspire popular collective power in community schemes? 216

Chapter 9 Summary and Conclusion
Summing up 223
Is health insurance socially and culturally feasible? 231
Theoretical implications of findings 231
Policy implications 238
Social context of insurance 238
Popular participation 239
Solidarity risk sharing and self-interest 240
The poor and insurance 241
The role of the state 241
Monitoring systems 242
Concluding remarks 242

References 245