Conflict issues matter: how conflict issues influence negotiation
Harinck, S.

Citation for published version (APA):

General rights
It is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), other than for strictly personal, individual use, unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Disclaimer/Complaints regulations
If you believe that digital publication of certain material infringes any of your rights or (privacy) interests, please let the Library know, stating your reasons. In case of a legitimate complaint, the Library will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website. Please Ask the Library: http://uba.uva.nl/en/contact, or a letter to: Library of the University of Amsterdam, Secretariat, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, The Netherlands. You will be contacted as soon as possible.
Acknowledgements

At the end of this project, it is time to acknowledge everybody who, directly or indirectly, contributed to this dissertation. First of all, I would like to thank my supervisor Carsten de Dreu. Working with him was a great learning experience, and I highly valued his ideas, critical remarks, and insights concerning research in general, and my research in particular. I am very glad that he was my supervisor and his influence will last long after this project is finished. I also want to thank Annelies van Vianen for her valuable input, especially in the beginning of this project. Second, I want to thank Bianca Beersma for being such a wonderful colleague, ‘officemate’ and friend. On a professional level, she was always willing to think along with my research, offering new insights or new ways to look at my research. On a social level, she offered the support needed to remain motivated on a long-term project like this. Moreover, working on this project would not have been as much fun without her.

I would also like to thank my fellow PhD-students; Wendelien, Marcel, Dörte, Cathy, Doris, Marjolein, Gerben, Wolfgang, Andreas, Dimitri, Irene, Dominique, as well as all my other colleagues at the programme group of Work and Organizational Psychology for the friendly and cooperative atmosphere at work. I will definitely miss your input and the lunches. I also very much appreciated the contact with colleagues and PhD-students from other universities. Wendy and Arjan, who became good friends when we were undergraduates and continued to be good friends during our PhD-projects. Esther, with whom it was so much fun to be in Prague. Mirjam, Ilja, Roderick, Antonello, Deanne, and all those other people who made seminars, workshops and conferences more than just ‘work’.
A special thanks goes to the people who helped me to gather the data or to transcribe and code the recorded negotiations: Geertje Peneder, Marieke Faber, Marjon Gerts, all OP-students, Erwin Evers, Niels Smits, Nikolaj Groeneweg, Bianca Beersma, Wolfgang Steinel and Gerben van Kleef. Thanks!

I would like to thank my parents and family for their unconditional love and support. Finally, Arnoud and Roos, you make home such a wonderful place to be, thank you for the support and the distraction.

Fieke