Contents

Chapter 1
A psychophysiological investigation of the pelvic floor:

- Introduction
- Organization of the thesis

Chapter 2
The pelvic floor; ins and outs of a supportive layer

- Abstract
- Introduction
- Embryology
- Anatomy and morphology
- Neuroanatomy and physiology; the central nervous system
- Physiology
- Symptomatology

Chapter 3
The diagnosis of vaginismus – Are women with pelvic floor symptoms distinguishable from other women with the aid of an anamnestic questionnaire?

- Abstract
- Introduction
- Methods
- Results
- Discussion

Chapter 4
Reproducibility of vaginal surface electromyography of the pelvic floor; a comparison of women with and without vaginistic reactions

- Abstract
- Introduction
- Methods
- Results
- Discussion
Chapter 5  Voluntary control over pelvic floor muscles in women with and without vaginistic reactions

Abstract  33
Introduction  34
Patients and Methods  34
Results  36
Discussion  42

Chapter 6  Vaginismus, a component of a general defensive reaction. An investigation of pelvic floor muscle activity during exposure to emotion inducing film excerpts in women with and without vaginismus

Abstract  43
Introduction  44
Methods  44
Results  46
Discussion  48

Chapter 7  The relationship between involuntary pelvic floor muscle activity, muscle awareness and experienced threat in women with and without vaginismus

Abstract  49
Introduction  50
Methods  51
Results  53
Discussion  61

Chapter 8  The mechanism of vaginismus; general discussion and concluding remarks

Introduction  64
Esperanto for the pelvic floor; facilitating multidisciplinary discussion  64
A defense mechanism; what makes the pelvic floor react this way?  67
Pathways to the pelvic floor  68
In conclusion  69
