ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am deeply grateful to a number of important individuals who have provided much welcome support throughout the whole process of this research. Without their help, it would not have been possible to reach this final and climactic point.

I would like to express special thanks to Patricia Pisters, for accepting me as a PhD candidate and for supervising my dissertation in an earnestly helpful and sincerely dedicated manner. She has not only enriched my vision of cinema and academic research, but has also been readily accessible and supportive in the utmost whenever I have needed her assistance.

I would thank to Thomas Elsaesser, Ieme van der Poel, Ryclef Rienstra, Alexandra Schneider and Frank van Vree for kindly accepting to take part in my committee despite their busy schedules. Mr. Rienstra, besides being involved as an advisory member in the committee, has contributed hugely to the construction of this research paper, which was massively aided by the interview he participated in and the sources he happily provided.

The other cinema professionals who have contributed to the content of this work by partaking in valuable interviews include: Semir Aslanyürek, Ahmet Boyacığlı, Reis Çelik, Murat Çiçek, Mehmet Demirhan, Zeki Demirkubuz, Adalet Dinamit, Faruk Güñaltay, Semih Kaplanoglu, Temel Kerimoğlu, Özer Kızıltan, Hetty Naaijkens, Roberto Olla, Ali Özgentürk, Dorien van de Pas, Ömer Üğur, Yeşim Ustaoğlu and Seçkin Yasar. I am indebted to each of them individually. Mustafa Turaç and Alev Yılmaz from the Ministry of Culture and Tourism of Turkey provided the most essential and vital numerical data needed for this research. Their contribution should not be underestimated.

Sami Şekeroğlu has supported me consistently and reliably, from the very first day I decided to be a film scholar. He and other scholars from the Turkish Film & TV Institute, namely Alev İdrisoglu, Asiye Korkmaz, Cem Odman, Yüksel Aktaş, Esra Berk Eren, Feray Türkan from Show TV and Berna Uçarol, have willingly supplied the films and/or printed sources I needed. They were of inestimable importance in helping me to make contact with the filmmakers for the interviews. Their support was unequivocally beneficent and I am most grateful to them. I also want to thank to Uğur Erhan Güven, Övgür Nemutlu, Dora Şahintürk, Özsel Tortop and Emine Yıldırım for mediating between me and the filmmakers when arranging the interviews. The Lambdaistanbul Association supplied several sources relating to LGBT issues; the last chapter would be incomplete without their support and I greatly appreciate their help.

David Clough has edited and proofed my written English. Amy Kenyon and Susan Stocker also supported me with my formal English at various stages of the research process. Aydın Özgül helped me to transform my initial research idea into a comprehensive and succinct proposal and Serkan Seçer gave much needed feedback regarding the final version of the text. I am grateful to all of them individually.

Eloe Kingma, Ania Dalecki and Jantine van Gogh were ready to help in the ASCA office whenever I had any query or concern. I would like to express my thanks to them as well as to my office mates and other friends who I met during the Film Philosophy and Theory seminars; they always provided me with genuine moral support, often just by their reassuring presence and warm smiles. Among them, I want to give my special thanks to Lara Mazurski and Irina Souch for willingly accepting to support me during the ceremony and to organise the concomitant events.

Finally I would like to convey my love for and gratitude to my whole family. Handan Aloğlu Yılmazok has had to be tolerant in the extreme and has had to bear all the inevitable negative side effects of the writing process. She has given me moral support in abundance. She has cheered me up with her sweet words and with delicious dishes of all kinds. Our son and sunshine, Ozan Güneş, joined us in the final phase of the PhD and has accompanied us day and night with his soft cries and joyful smiles. My parents have supported me throughout the research process, and, more significantly, have guided, loved and provided for me all my life. Without them, this PhD would be nothing.
