Acknowledgements

My first acknowledgment goes to my supervisor and my promoter. Wim and Peter, you have supported my work with many great tips, suggestions, and continuous encouragement. I learnt a lot from you, not just about analytical chemistry. I appreciated you allowed me to spend a few months away from Amsterdam, when I needed to be fixed in Italy. Not to mention how much I enjoyed your sense of humor (in the case of Peter a little peculiar occasionally), and the friendly atmosphere you contributed so much to create in the group. Wim, your corrections and remarks on my manuscripts were definitely la ciliegina sulla torta, and even more than that. You look yourself for the translation when you have the time.

Wim and Pat: you accepted without hesitation to be my paranimfen. Thank you about that and for the countless time you already helped me before. Peter, my last office-mate at UvA: bedankt for the Dutch translation. I wonder whether you are still so keen in giving direction to lost students.

Thanks a lot to the many AIOs of PA group: Bas (thanks for teaching me the secrets of monoliths), Filippo (my ghost flat mate), Rob, Stella (thanks for the good time in Baltimore and Kampen together with Peter), Sonja, Erwin, Marika, Linda (thanks for all the nice words), Simona (thanks for the Sponge Bob puppet), Monique, Fiona, my first office mates Xulin and Khatalijne, Aleksandra, Elena, Yuli, Maya, and the guests, Ruohua, Sandra and Curro. Thanks to the other PA members: first of all Petra, always so nice and helpful, but also Aschwin, Tom, Dini, Wim O. I very much appreciated the stimulating comments and questions from Hans-Gerd and Sjoerd, Wybren, Henk Lauer, and Wil. There was a time when the group was invaded by a horde of cheerful foreigners: Jirka, Lenka, José, Inger-Lill (and Morten of course), it was awesome when you were there. I also want to thanks Gabriel for all the fun we had when we shared the office, and for hosting me in London. Olja and Hans thanks for the couch you donated me and for all the rest. Thanks to all the students who temporarily experienced the PA group, especially Arian because he was always laughing for my (bad) jokes. Thanks to the people of HIMS who helped me in a way or another.
Thanks to the many climbing partners I had, for the indoor training, and for the few climbing trips we had around Europe. Definitely the best part of this climbing thing was drinking few bottles of La Chouffe after a hard training session, with almost no skin left on the fingers. Special thanks goes to Veronique, who timidly saved me from what could have turned into my last fall.

Thanks also to all the mates (and girls) I played calcio with, most of them from HomCat group (cheers guys). It was great to go back to the status of noisy sweaty kids once a week, and after all, I do not really mind I had to give up few ankle ligaments for all this fun.

Thanks to all the flatmates I had, particularly Enrico and Franco. Franco, thanks also for the help you gave in my last moving.

Thanks to the Italians in Amsterdam: Raffa (my favorite chef), Tommaso (grazie per le dritte sulla tesi), Stefi, Mariangela (thanks for hosting me), Stefano, Raffaele, Teresa, Tora, Fabrizio M., Enrico II, Umberto, Federico. Elisa and Alessandro, in order to learn Dutch you went as far as marring native speakers; this is what is called motivation. I would like to thanks all the guests Franco and I had on July 9th 2006. Also big hug to the TT knights: Alessia, Fabrizio F. and “il cugino” Marco.

Un grosso abbraccio ai miei amici storici in Veneto: Sandro, Paola, Ele, Vale, Oscar, Omar, Toni, Pigi, Stefano, Francesca e Cugi.

Infine vorrei ringraziare i miei genitori per il continuo aiuto, insieme a mio cognato a e mia sorella. Anna, temo che hai un pò di responsabilità nella mia decisione di iniziare il dottorato in Olanda. Un grosso grazie alla mia super nipotuncola: Anthea, il maialino che mi hai regalato mi ha sempre fatto sorridere, anche quando non ne avevo proprio voglia.

Well, I hope I have not forgotten any special person. If so, I humbly apologize, and please consider that today is a beautiful summer morning, it is one of my last days of vacation, and the sun is now hitting the screen of my laptop, so I do not really feel like staying in front of the computer any longer.

Grazie a tutti
Mauro
